ALLIES IMPROVE POSITIONS AS
HUNS PREPARE NEW BLOWImportant Gains for French and British—Big Guns Booming from Ypres to Rheims—Italians Push On

(By the Associated Press)

Both the French and British continued yesterday and last night their recently adopted program of prodding the Germans at various points along the Franco-Belgian line, capturing a vantage point here and there and harassing the enemy while the preparations for the resumption of his offensive are underway.

French Advance and Take Prisoners

The French hit the line in local attacks at two separate points, but both on the western side of the German salient which projects down to the Marne from the Aisne. They gained ground in each attack and took prisoners and machine guns during the fighting.

The most pronounced gain was effected by Gen. Petain's troops just above the point where their line joins the American sector northwest of Belleau wood. They advanced here south of Passy-en-Paloe, and carried their line forward so that it now runs east of the Chezy-Vinly railroad. In addition, they held on firmly to the ground gained the night previous just to the north, in the region of Montoy, fighting off two German counter attacks.

French Capture 200 Huns

Southwest of Soissons, where the brilliant stroke of last week placed the French in a strong position on the important plateau, the Germans moved ahead again in the center of their new line, gaining ground by the capture of a strong point north of Culry.

In all the French took some 200 prisoners in these actions.

Success For British

The British stroke, which was also a local operation, was well toward the southern end of their line, just above Albert, north of the Somme river. An improvement in the British positions was effected here and machine guns and prisoners fell into their hands when they advanced.

Big Guns Booming

From Ypres to Rheims, the big guns are busier than they have been for some days and the Germans probably are preparing to react strongly against the allied nibbling tactics which cost them important points last week.

The German command is known to have large forces in readiness on the main battle fields of France. They may strike anywhere on the 200 mile main front, as their communications give them much elasticity of movement. It is expected that the blow will be the mightiest the enemy can make.

The French continue to perfect their defensive positions between the Aisne and the Marne. Southeast of the Forest of Villers-Coterets, they have extended their line and taken 265 prisoners, while north of the forest 100 Germans were taken in a small advance near St. Pierre Aigle. The enemy did not reach strongly and the French hold their positions firmly.

Expect Drive on Americans

Along the line northwest of Chaumont-Thierry, where the Americans hold a sector, the Germans are reported concentrating troops and supplies. Aerial fighting has been severe near the American lines. It is not unlikely that the Germans plan to give the Americans a hard blow in payment for the recent American successes on this front.

Gains for Italians

with inquiries as to whether they would parade.

In view of the numerous patriotic activities of the Elks, it seemed only fitting that they should take part in Thursday's parade. The following officers were chosen for the Elks' division in the parade: C. Frederick Gilmore, exalted ruler; William H. Mahan, D.L.K.; Samuel Scott, E.L.K.; John J. Lee, P.E.R., secretary; Thomas A. A military band has been secured by the lodge and open house will be held all day Thursday. A dinner will be held after the parade.

The Elks will not wear special dress, but if any of the members desire to wear their Palm Beach suits they may do so.

Majority of Unskilled Employees
Report for Duty

About 75 per cent. of the cotton mill operatives are working today despite the strike which went into effect this morning under the auspices of the United Textile Workers of America, according to statements today by mill officials. On the other hand the union officials claim that the number of operatives who remained away from their work is sufficient to cripple the mills to such an extent that a general shut down will be ordered within a few days. Unless government arbitrators step in, which it is alleged, is likely to occur, the battle is one of endurance on both sides, for the mill officials are determined not to grant the additional five per cent. increase demanded over the 10 per cent. granted June 17, on the ground that they cannot afford it, while the strikers aver that they will stay out until their request is granted, claiming that Lowell should be in-line with other important textile centers, which have already granted similar and larger increases.

The executive committee of the Lowell Textile council, which is in charge of the strike, met this forenoon and at the close of the session President John Golden of the United Textile Workers of America stated that the progress of the strike so far was very satisfactory. It is claimed by mill officials that only about 10 per cent. of the operatives stayed out this morning and that inasmuch as those who remained out are skilled help, their work supplying work for others, many others were forced out inasmuch as there was nothing for them to do.

The mill officials stated to a Sun reporter this morning that those who remained away from their work were the loomfixers, beamers, slasher tenders and a small portion of the weavers, and as a result of these crafts not reporting most of the weavers were forced to leave their work. The mill agents admit that the plants are crippled to such an extent that unless a settlement is reached within a few days they probably will have to shut down altogether, but nevertheless, they state they will operate as long as they can.

No trouble is anticipated for the mill agents will not attempt in any way, so they stated this morning, to fill the positions of the strikers, while on the other hand it is very probable that no picketing will be done by the strikers although no definite action on this matter has as yet been taken. The mills affected by the strike are the Massachusetts, Boot, Merrimack, Tremont & Suffolk, Appleton and Hamilton and the Bay State corporation in Marginal street.

John Golden, president of the United Textile Workers of America, stated this morning that in the case of the Bay State corporation there was no strike, for he alleges that the loomfixers were discharged Saturday noon at which time they were paid off, and this morning the mill was shut down tight. It is also claimed that the stationary firemen employed at the Appleton Co. left their work this morning.

Golden Issues Statement
The executive committee of the Lowell Textile council met with President Golden this forenoon and at the close of the session Mr. Golden issued the following statement:

"The report shows that all the mills are practically cleaned out of help and that the firemen also left their work. The contention of some of the mill men that the help was entirely satisfied with the 10 per cent increase granted and that the strikers are not represented in the majority is not true. "Comparing the present strike with the strike of 1912 we are much better organized now than we were at that time. The skilled help is 100 per cent organized and the mills cannot run."

Without them, in skilled help we mean loomfixers, weavers, grinders, fixers, beamers, slasher tenders and others. The spinners are also organized, but they are not in our branch of organized labor.

"So far we are well satisfied with the result of the strike and we feel that we will win out. In Providence, R. I., where the same difficulties existed, two or three of the large corporations have already granted the 15 per cent. demanded, while the others are holding out but it will be but a few days before they come to terms."

Government Arbitration
Asked if he expected government interference, Mr. Golden said that inasmuch as such steps had been taken in Manchester, N. H., where a government arbitrator is now at work in an endeavor to bring about a settlement, he felt similar action would be taken in Lowell, although he claimed that no steps had been taken in that line by union officials. He stated on the telephone he was called on the telephone by a representative of the Massachusetts state board of arbitration, but he would not state the nature of the conversation.

Golden said about picketing, Mr. Golden said that nothing definite in that line had been arrived at yet. He said the executive committee would meet again this afternoon and the matter may be discussed at the meeting. Mr. Golden stated that the loomfixers employed at the Bay State Cotton Corp. in Marginal street were discharged and paid off Saturday noon and this morning after an unsuccessful attempt had been made to operate the plant the entire mill was shut down tight. He also reported that the stationary firemen employed at the Appleton mill had left their work this morning with the result that the mill is badly crippled.

Plan Daily Meetings
Plans were made this morning for daily meetings of the various organizations connected with the strike. All the organizations with the exception of the loomfixers will meet at 32 Middle street, some in the large hall and some in the small meeting hall. Beginning tomorrow meetings will be held as follows:

Large hall—Weavers, 8 to 9 a. m., slasher tenders, 10 to 11 a. m., Polish weavers, 2 to 3 p. m., Beamers, 3 to 4 p. m., Small hall—Carders and pickers, 8 to 9 a. m., Textile council, 9 to 10 a. m., and twisters, 10 to 11 a. m. The loomfixers will meet every morning in their quarters in the Runels building.

Lawrence Mfg. Co.
Everything is normal at the Lawrence Mfg. Co. Everybody reported to work this morning and the plant is running full blast. The only ones who are interfering with anyone. The regular mill police were on duty as usual and no effort had been made to have city officers at the gates, for it had been stated by union officials that there would be no picketing done this morning and this was followed to the letter.

Some of the strikers entered the mills in order to create sentiment, but they left shortly afterward and in no instance was any disturbance reported. The mill officials were well satisfied with the behavior of the strikers, while on the other hand the union officials were pleased to note that their instructions had been followed to the letter.

2000 OPERATIVES FAILED TO REPORT FOR WORK AT PAWTUCKET, R. I.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., July 1.—Two thousand cotton weavers, loomfixers and beamers failed to report for work this morning in 27 mills in the Blackstone valley, because their demand for a 15 per cent increase in wages was refused. Union leaders state other departments in the mills operated as usual.

Union leaders say 4500 union members are on strike in the state and assert that unless a settlement is reached over 20,000 other mill employees whose work is dependent on that of the weavers, will be affected within a few days. Mill agents have offered from 7-12 to 10 per cent. increase, but this has been rejected. Weavers are now making an average of $38.60 weekly. The increase demanded would bring their wages to $32.35.

ALL ORGANIZED LOOMFIXERS AT WOONSOCKET, R. I., ON STRIKE

WOONSOCKET, R. I., July 1.—The loomfixers in every cotton mill in this city but one, the help in the latter being unorganized, struck this morning. A number of weavers are also threatening to go out. The action of the loomfixers will force an early closing of the mills.

15,000 TEXTILE OPERATIVES ON STRIKE AT MANCHESTER, N. H.

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 1.—About 15,000 textile operatives of the Ameskeag and Stark mills are idle this morning, on account of a strike in the mills. Members of the Textile Union of America quit work for an increase of 15 per cent in place of 12-1-2 granted by the companies. The state labor commission was notified by the managers and a representative of the commission is already on his way to this city to take a hand in the strike.

Strike at Warren, R. I.
WARREN, R. I., July 1.—Three hundred weavers at the plant of the Warren Manufacturing Co., struck today for a 15 per cent increase in wages.

STRIKE THREATENED AT CARTRIDGE PLANT

The members of Lodge 138 and 139, Machinists' union, and those of Lodge 745, Fixers' union, employed at the local plant of the United States Cartridge Co., will go on strike if they receive the official sanction from the international body, for they have refused to accept the offer of a 20 per cent increase in wages made by the officials of the company.

A few days ago notices were posted in the plants of the company to the effect that a 20 per cent increase in wages, which would date back to May 8, would go into effect July 1. The matter was discussed at meetings of the above mentioned labor organizations held yesterday, and the offer was rejected. The machinists and fixers want a straight increase of 15 cents an hour, or 37 per cent, and it was voted to strike providing the action is sanctioned by the international board. It may be a day or two before word is received from international headquarters.

STRIKES ARE UGLY

They STRIKE the home. They STRIKE the city. They inevitably eventually STRIKE us all. No one escapes. It STRIKES us (the wise writer) that He or She, who finds conditions to warrant a STRIKE, should have a SAVINGS ACCOUNT before the STRIKES or soon after. There can't be argument. Nothing in the proposition to arbitrate.

WILSON URGES CONGRESS TO TAKE OVER TEL. AND TEL. LINESEffort Will be Made to Put Through Legislation Empowering President to Take Over System

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Government control and operation of the nation's telegraph and telephone systems were recommended to congress today by President Wilson. In the face of an impending strike of union operators employed by the Western Union Co., an effort will be made to put through before the recess of congress this week pending legislation empowering the president to take over the systems. President Wilson informed the house interstate and foreign commerce committee that he is heartily in favor of legislation authorizing the government to take over the telegraph and telephone lines. The president's views were communicated in a brief note endorsing the legislation, but making no reference to the Western Union situation. Letters of approval also were sent by Secretaries Daniels and Baker and Postmaster General Burleson, whose opinions had been sought by the committee. Members of congress said today that the attorney-general had advised the president that he was without authority under existing laws to take over the lines and that if necessary for action arose with congress in recess, he would be without power to act.

BLESSING AND RAISING OF SERVICE FLAG

Impressive simplicity marked the blessing and raising of the parish service flag of the Immaculate Conception church at the close of the 11 o'clock mass yesterday. The emblem contained 232 stars, one of them golden in memory of the late Sergt. Daniel A. Sullivan of the U. S. Marines.

Thousands of people not only from the parish but from all over the city, attended the affair. At the conclusion of the mass Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O.M.I., pastor of the church; Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, O.M.I., Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., altar boys, members of the O.M.I. Cadets and members of the church choir marched to the front entrance of the church. The church grounds were crowded with spectators and it was one of the most impressive outdoor religious ceremonies that has ever been held here. The choir, assisted by members of the Cadets, opened the exercises with the singing of Cardinal O'Connell's patriotic hymn, "The Cross and the Flag." Rev. Fr. Tighe, O.M.I., then spoke briefly in substance as follows:

"We are about to assist at a simple, but at the same time significant, ceremony—the blessing and unfurling of our parish service flag. Not in the spirit of idle boasting, much less for the purpose of personal exaltation, do we unfurl this beautiful banner to the summer breeze.

"The motives that prompt our action are Christian and patriotic and may be summed up in a few brief words, love of country.

"A second motive for unfurling the flag is to instill into the hearts of the youth of this congregation greater reverence for the cross and the institutions of their country—to encourage them in undertaking what will redound to her well-being and to avoid aught that might perchance dim her glory. This flag will bespeak the gratitude that fills our hearts for those who are faithful to a sacred trust.

"The third and perhaps most important purpose of this flag is to be a constant reminder to all our people that they, too, have a duty to perform—the duty of prayer that the boys of our congregation may be true to the best traditions of all past ages—that they may have nothing undone to benefit their country—and that if called to make the supreme sacrifice they will make it without flinching and with the full and confident knowledge that they are dying in a noble—yes, a sacred cause."

At the conclusion of his remarks the flag was held by five women of the parish who have served sons in the service: Mrs. Thomas F. Cummings, Mrs. Michael Quinn, Mrs. William Haggerty, Mrs. Susan Murphy and Mrs. May E. O'Donnell. Rev. Fr. Tighe blessed the flag and then it was raised aloft on the front wall of the church. As the banner made its way upward the entire assembly sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

The flag was donated by members of the Holy Rosary society of which Rev. Fr. McQuaid is director. It is 20 by 12 feet and the stars are arranged in the shape of a cross with the golden star in the center.

U. S. SOLDIERS GOING TO ROME FOR JULY 4

PARIS, July 1.—The Stars and Stripes announces that a detachment of American soldiers will be sent to Rome to take part in the Fourth of July celebration there.

Announcement has been made that American fighting troops will be sent from France to Italy by General Pershing. An American contingent, mostly non-combatant troops, landed in Italy late last week. It is probably from one of these forces that the detachments which will go to Rome will be selected.

Collapse of Big Sioux City

Building Followed by Fire

—Firemen Search Ruins

SIoux CITY, Ia., July 1.—Thirty-nine bodies have been recovered from the ruins of the Ruff building and firemen and volunteers, who are continuing the search of the debris, estimate that probably 50 persons were killed, when the building collapsed Saturday, carrying down with it two smaller adjacent structures. Thirty-three persons were injured, none probably fatally.

The majority of the victims burned to death, rescuers said. As the larger building toppled it buried under tons of debris the small structures occupied by the Chain Grocery company and the Beaumont meat market, imprisoning patrons and employees.

Firemen said only in a minority of cases were the bodies crushed. For the most part the victims were imprisoned and the fire which started soon after the crash burned them to death.

BRITISH SOLDIER PAYS TRIBUTE TO U. S. TROOPS

BOSTON, July 1.—Private Samuel Weir of the British Army Service corps in a letter to his brother, Lieut. Jas. S. Weir of the British and Canadian recruiting mission at 44 Bromfield st., from somewhere in France, pays a splendid tribute to the American soldiers who have arrived overseas. The letter reads:

"Quite by chance I ran against an American infantryman, who forthwith began to tell me of his war experiences. He was quite young, being scarcely 20, but he was a sturdy example of that ever-increasing army which now arrives to take its share in the battle of the nations. He had a prolonged and varied experience in the line, and yet was brimful of hope for a complete victory in the near future."

"There can be no doubt about the high physical standard of the boys who come from 'Out West.' Naturally I spoke of you in the course of conversation, and we became closer friends than ever. Have you noticed in the illustrated papers the views of Cafe Riosk, with its knot of soldiers standing around? That is the scene of our rencontre. Can you imagine it? It symbolizes the latest of alliances, when 'West meets East.'"

MRS. GAUDETTE HONORED

A very pleasant surprise and birthday party was last evening tendered to Mrs. Anna Gaudette of the Omaha camp, Mountain Rock, by a large group of friends and relatives. During the course of the evening Mrs. Gaudette was presented a substantial purse of gold on behalf of those present. An enjoyable program of music was carried out with Miss Laura Holdick and William Bassett at the piano. Priv-

Joseph Harvey of Camp Devens rendered several fine solos and everyone present assisted in making the evening successful. Refreshments were served under the direction of Miss Florida Gaudette. The party "broke up" at a seasonable hour with best wishes to Mrs. Gaudette and family.

BOLSHEVIKI SURRENDERS FLEET TO GERMANY

LONDON, July 1.—The Bolshevik government has surrendered to Germany part of the Russian Black sea fleet which fled to Novo Rossysk when the Germans captured Sebastopol, says an official telegram from Moscow. The other ships of the fleet were blown up by the crews. Germany has promised not to use the warships and to return them to Russia after the conclusion of peace. Foreign Minister Tchitcherine's announcement says:

"The return of part of the fleet from Novo Rossysk to Sebastopol was agreed to on the express condition that Germany give a guarantee that the ships would not be utilized by Germany and her allies in the war and that they be returned to Russia after the conclusion of a general peace, and that German troops not cross the line of demarcation, which approximately coincides with their position at the opening of the negotiations with the Ukraine. It was only on condition that such an agreement be concluded Germany stopped the advance of the German troops toward Novo Rossysk."

MOSCOW, Sunday, June 23 (By the Associated Press).—Only one dreadnaught and three destroyers of the Russian Black sea fleet, were returned to Sebastopol in compliance with the German demand, the correspondent is reliably informed. The number of ships blown up by their crews was much larger than those given over to the Germans.

Everything is in readiness for the annual parish picnic and field day of the Sacred Heart parishioners scheduled to be held on the parochial grounds, Moore st., on Thursday afternoon and evening next.

This annual event is usually looked forward to by the Sacred Heart parishioners and their hosts of friends throughout the city, as the most enjoyable feature of Independence day festivities and the various committees who have been laboring zealously to promote the success of the affair, feel confident that this year's celebration will surpass in excellence any event of its kind yet held under the auspices of the Sacred Heart parishioners.

As in former years the midway will be one of the popular attractions. The midway furnishes enjoyment for the young and old, and brings the parishioners together in social intercourse as the members of one happy family.

Space does not permit an enumeration of the many attractions to be seen along the midway, but that all

APPEAL TO COURT

Manufacturers to Test Government's Contention for Fees and Commissions

Ruled It was Illegal to Pay Agents for Getting Government Contracts

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The government's contention that it is illegal to pay fees or commissions in connection with negotiating any government contract soon will be subject to a test in the courts. A group of manufacturers is arranging to bring suit to contest the attitude of the department of justice. Details will be announced soon by the department.

Despite the recent disclosures of enormous sums paid contingent fee agents and the indictment of four of these agents on charges of conspiring to defraud the government, the operations of commission agents are continuing in Washington and elsewhere. Additional arrests are said to be planned by officials.

Contractors today complained to the department that they should not be deprived of the services of agents working under commission agreements. The government established the proposed bureau to aid manufacturers to get in touch with proper purchasing agencies of the government. For this reason, they explained, they had not discontinued the employment of agents.

Plans for the establishment of a central bureau to furnish information on contracts will be discussed tomorrow at the cabinet meeting.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE

American Officers in Automobile Attacked by German Airplane

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Sunday, June 30.—(By the Associated Press) An American lieutenant colonel and two other officers had a thrilling experience Friday night with a German airplane. They were travelling along a road in an automobile when the enemy aviator fired on them with his machine gun.

The chauffeur increased his speed to the limit while the bullets rained all about the automobile. The lieutenant colonel found a way out of the ticklish situation by turning off the lights and stopping the automobile. Before this could be done, however, one of the other officers was wounded slightly. The enemy airplane finally flew off.

KILLED BY AUTO ON THE LAWRENCE BOULEVARD

John W. Walton of Lawrence was killed and Gregory Kriolovitch was seriously injured in an auto accident on the Lawrence boulevard near Glen Forest, Saturday afternoon at about 4 o'clock.

The accident was in the nature of a collision between a jitney operated by Patrick Keegan of Lowell and an auto driven by Andrew O'Brien of Boston.

Mr. Keegan received a cut over the left eye which required seven stitches and John Tukaski of Lawrence, Peter Kanellos of Salem, and John Graham of Lowell experienced a severe shaking up and received several bruises.

Keegan, with eight or nine passengers, was coming toward Lowell and upon reaching Glen Forest saw a Pierce-Arrow limousine cutting across the road. Keegan stated that he kept to his side of the road, expecting the Boston man to do likewise, but the limousine kept coming toward him and finally struck the jitney in the rear, killing Walton almost instantly and injuring the others. Gregory Kriolovitch who was seriously injured, was removed to a Lawrence hospital.

Charge of Manslaughter

O'Brien, the driver of the Boston automobile, was arraigned in the police court at Lawrence this morning on complaints charging him with manslaughter and operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. He pleaded not guilty on both charges. On the manslaughter charge he was held in $5000 for the grand jury and on the other charge he was continued to July 3.

OVERTHROW BOLSHEVIKI

Grand Duke Michael Said to Have Issued Manifesto to Restore Order

LONDON, July 1.—Grand Duke Michael is reported to have issued a manifesto stating that he considered it his duty to restore order and regenerate the Russian people, says an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Moscow under date of June 26. He calls upon all people to overthrow the present government.

The grand duke's appeal for the ousting of the bolshevik government is based upon the dissolution of the constituent assembly which was called to decide upon Russia's form of ### government.

This act resulted in the disintegration of Russia, the manifesto declares.

Amnesty for past offenses will be granted all who take part in the revolution, the grand duke promises.

The manifesto mentioned is probably identical with one reported in Amsterdam despatches of June 27 to have been issued about that time by Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch, a younger brother of the former emperor Nicholas. This manifesto, it was announced, had been addressed to the Russian people when the grand duke placed himself at the head of a new government in Siberia.

NERVES UNSTRUNG BY RUSH OF WORK

In these war times we all want to keep ourselves at the highest point of efficiency to be able to do our share in the many demands for service that are made on all. Unless you stop the mental fatigue and build up your nerves you will be fortunate if you escape nervous breakdown, some form of paralysis or other severe nervous disorder.

"The strain of a rush of work at the mill, due to war orders, was getting on my nerves," says Mr. Thomas Wagner of 67 Marshall street, Lowell, Mass., "and I had stomach trouble. My appetite was poor and I could not digest food. I was uneasy all the time. I was restless and rolled and tossed about in bed. When I got up I did not feel like working. A friend recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I gave them a trial. I soon noticed that they were helping me. I can eat better and have more ambition. My nerves are steeper and I rest well at night. I certainly can recommend these pills after what they have done for me."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a nerve tonic. They build up the nerves in the only possible way, by enriching the blood with elements the nerves need. The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved useful in so many severe cases that every sufferer is justified in giving them a trial for any form of nervous debility. They contain no opiate or harmful drug.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Price, fifty cents per box; six boxes for $2.50. Write to Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for free book on nervous disorders.—Adv.

COMPUTED LUMBER CUT FOR U. S. IN 1917

WASHINGTON, July 1.—A total computed lumber cut for the United States in 1917 of 35,831,239,000 feet is announced by the forest service. This figure is based on reports received up to May 15, from 16,408 sawmills out of the 24,815 believed to have operated last year. It is estimated that the actual cut in 1917, on the basis of compiled figures, was approximately 10 per cent. less than the production in 1916.

The falling off in lumber production during the past year is attributed principally to largely decreased private building operations, the scarcity of labor in connection with small operations, transportation difficulties, curtailment of demand on the part of wood-using industries, and a more or less general dislocation of lumber distribution through ordinary channels of trade. A considerable portion of the total quantity produced was utilized in meeting the exceptional demands for government construction and other war emergency projects, including ship material.

The state of Washington was again the largest producer, with a lumber cut of 4,570,000,000 feet; Louisiana was second with 4,210,000,000 feet, and Oregon third with 2,585,000,000 feet, crowding into the fourth position Mississippi with a cut of 2,425,000,000 feet.

Southern yellow pine, with a total of 13,539,464,000 feet, forms 37.7 per cent. of the total cut. Douglas fir, its nearest competitor, is credited with 5,585,000,000 feet. White oak and white pine are each credited with 2,450,000,000 feet.

The number of mills in operation reporting in 1917 was smaller than for the two preceding years.

A comparison of the computed cut for 1917 with the total cut of the previous year in the larger producing regions shows a decrease of about 10 per cent. in the southern yellow pine group of States, a decrease of 23 per cent. in the North Carolina pine group and a decrease of 11 per cent. in the Lake state. On the other hand there was an increase in production of 3 per cent. in Oregon and Washington.

OPPORTUNITY TO BUILD UP RESERVES

How large will this year's crops be? And what use will this nation make of them?

Such are the queries which now-a-days are all important and heard everywhere. Most vital of all, perhaps, is the question of our approaching new wheat supplies, and how such supplies are to be utilized. At present the most careful estimates place the 1918 wheat crop at a high figure, and there is little reason to doubt them.

What is to be done with this wheat? To find the answer for this a good many people—far too many—are arguing thus: "Wheat supplies at present in this country are abnormally low, have been in that condition for some time. There are all sorts of trade restrictions regarding the amount of wheat that can be bought, sold and used. The housewife has been told to conserve wheat in every way, and has done so. Now, if the approaching wheat crop is large, let us at once rectify all these abnormal conditions and get back to our normal pre-war domestic conditions. That is surely the only sensible course."

Such reasoning is altogether false, worse than that, it is unpatriotic, in that it contributes nothing toward our troops or the allies. Our coming wheat crop, which should begin to be available some time after the middle of August, must be regarded as a potential factor in maintaining the strength and morale of the armies and people in allied Europe. Such an achievement can be accomplished only by regarding the coming crop of wheat as a means for building up a reserve, practical and efficient in its possibilities. It is true, of course, that with a larger supply of wheat in hand, some restrictions regarding domestic use may be modified or removed. But such removal of restrictions should be regarded as only incidental. No mere assets of domestic inconvenience can begin to equal the importance of an adequate reserve.

Such a reserve will provide an accumulation of at least one staple food product which will permit real flexibility of usefulness. That is, it will help guard against any unforeseen and unfavorable crop conditions in the future. It will aid, by constant shipment overseas, the allies in building up in their own countries such reserves as are necessary to guard against unexpected contingencies which might result from a more complete submarine blockade. Finally, perhaps most important of all, such a reserve will help counteract the effect of the steady and continued diversion of men from food production to other necessary war activities.

And all of this applies not merely to wheat, but to any other staple food product of which we may have an abundance.

Therefore the coming harvest time should—must—be regarded not as an occasion to cease conservation, nor as a period in which it is advisable to "take off the lid" in any sense, but, rather, as a time when our nation's food service will be greater because its opportunity is greater. That is a policy and an ideal to be lived up to wholeheartedly and patriotically during the coming months.

YANKEES AWAIT BLOW

Extensive German Troop Movements at Chateau-Thierry Observed

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES ON THE MARNE, July 1. (By The Associated Press.)—Extensive movements of troops and materials north of Chateau-Thierry, together with the increased artillery and aerial activity, form the basis of the belief that American forces in this locality may be called upon to defend themselves in the near future.

Long streams of enemy troops and wagon trains have observed in the neighborhood of the Bonnes wood. There have been more than 60 enemy serial flights over the American lines northwest of Chateau-Thierry in the past 24 hours. One German machine was shot down by our antiaircraft guns.

The American artillery has heavily shelled many villas and active spots within the enemy lines, once obtaining a direct hit in a detachment of marching Germans.

For days the Americans have been expecting that the enemy, stung by the defeat administered to him recently on this front, would make a vigorous assault upon our forces and it was partly for this reason that the American operations in the Belleau section were carried out. With these operations completed, the Americans now have the country for several miles in front of them under their eyes and guns and can see what is developing. In consequence, when the expected blow comes, they will be that much better prepared to meet it.

The American troops have made all preparations and the Boche will get an exceedingly warm reception if he tries what the situation today indicates he has in mind. The Americans say that no matter where the enemy strikes he is bound to pay dearly for his effort and that the bigger the target the better the American forces will like it.

To the east of Chateau-Thierry, along the River Marne, except for constantly increasing long-range shelling on both sides, comparative quiet reigns. There has been no patrolling because the bright moonlight on the water prevents a crossing, but the American snipers have been so active in the past four days that the Germans rarely make an appearance.

the Austro-Hungarian losses in the last Italian offensive, according to a Budapest despatch received here yesterday. The premier said that during the last few days existing rumors were being circulated regarding the losses. These rumors, he declared, were much exaggerated. The Austro-Hungarian armies were withdrawn on the Piave front in order to spare lives, he declared, since they must have sustained very great losses had they held that line.

"But how great are our losses?" interrupted Deputy Zlinsky. "The number of prisoners taken was recently stated to be 18,000," the premier replied. "I must, however, correct that statement. The truth is that the Italians have taken 12,000, while 50,000 Italians fell into our hands. In the case of an offensive and a retreat this figure cannot be termed excessively high. Much sadder is the loss we suffered in dead, wounded and sick, mostly sick. In the 10th and 11th Italian offensives we lost 80,000 to 100,000 men. Now, however, our losses are similar, about 100,000 men."

"These figures include the fallen, the slightly wounded and those brought back as ineffective."

A great uproar interrupted the premier and there were cries of "They were all Hungarians!" When quiet was restored Premier Wekerle continued:

"I mention these figures in order to describe the situation with perfect sincerity. Also because our enemies will certainly portray these losses in an exaggerated fashion, and perhaps also influence our public opinion."

"There are also rumors circulating that on this occasion Hungarian troops were called upon in excessively large numbers and that the losses fell upon them only. Therefore, I must point out that 33 Hungarian and 37 Austrian regiments participated in the entire offensive and retreat, or 47 per cent Hungarian and 53 Austrian."

"In the entire advance and retreat the Italian losses amounted to 150,000, far surpassing our losses in dead, wounded and sick."

A report is also being circulated that our losses were due to a lack of ammunition."

A deputy shouted: "Lack of food," to which the premier replied that "our army never was so well provided with munitions as during the middle of June."

"It is true, the premier added, 'that of three bridges, thrown across the Piave, the uppermost unfortunately collapsed and then both of the others were carried away with it. Thus unsurmountable difficulties arose in bringing up provisions during the sensational retreat which was followed according to the regular plan, and only a few troops who remained behind to cover the retreat fell into Italian hands. The entire retreat was carried out in such an orderly and unobserved manner that the Italians continued their attacks on our former positions."

"If, despite these regrettable events,

I draw deductions from the whole that it is not to be doubted that we inflicted important losses on the Italians and prevented them from sending a considerable part of their troops to the western front, which in the interest of the common conduct of the war is undoubtedly the objective which it was our duty to attain."

"This aim, too, we attained."

EVERGREEN PLANTATIONS SHOW EFFECTS OF THE HARD WINTER

Upon a recent inspection of forest plantations in Massachusetts by State Forester Rane, he reports that the effect of winter killing of the tips and branches of evergreens due to ice storms and the severe conditions of the past winter is generally very much in evidence. Upon first examination one would think the trouble due to the work of the pine weevil which has been prevalent during the past two seasons, but closer diagnosis indicates that a great amount of damage is caused by winter killing. Where the young pines are mixed in with sprout growth they are far less affected. The unsightly appearance of the trees with their red tops leads one to feel discouraged; the root system, however, is normal and it is believed that many young trees will continue to live but will take a year or two to regain their former appearance and vigor. Because of the exceptional growth of the last two seasons the effect of this setback is the more pronounced.

Evidently the severity of the winter can easily account for the great loss of the more tender trees and shrubs of which privet and arbor vitae hedges are examples, when its effect on our hardy evergreens is so pronounced.

More or less damage is found also from the sirdling of trees by rodents due to continued deep snow. The greatest damage has been to the Scotch pine. This tree in the various plantations has been severely girdled and while the trees do not show the effects as yet, it is believed they are badly damaged. Strange to say, the white pitch and red pines under similar conditions were comparatively untouched. The trees in plantations that withstood the climatic conditions best are the spruce, balsam and red pines. That the past winter was an exceptional one in its severity there can be no question, and it is hoped that we may not see its equal for years to come.

STRIKE IS CALLED

Western Union Telegraphers are Ordered to Quit Work July 8

Employees Claim the Company Tried to Destroy Their Union

CHICAGO, July 1.—S. J. Konenkamp, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, last night announced that he has issued a call for a strike of members of the union employed by the Western Union Telegraph company, effective at 7 a. m., eastern time, Monday, July 8.

The announcement in part follows: "The strike against the Western Union Telegraph company will be effective at 7 a. m., eastern time, and at the corresponding hour of 6 a. m., central time, Monday, July 8. Official announcement of the time has been sent to the Order of Railroad Telegraphers and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers for their information and guidance."

"The grievances to be adjusted are those set forth in President Wilson's letter to the Western Union Telegraph company, as follows: "The reinstatement of more than 800 Western Union employees locked out contrary to the terms of his proclamation of April 8, 1915, and to enforce the decision of the national war labor board dated June 1, 1918."

"In this letter to the Western Union, President Wilson asked officials of that company, to co-operate with him by accepting the labor board's decision. This the company declined to do. Similar letters addressed to the Postal Telegraph company and to your union brought forth an expression of their willingness to comply with his request."

"The strike against the Western Union alone is necessary because of that company's determination to destroy our organization. As Americans, we have no desire to be subjects of tyranny, and this strike will be justified to the boys at the front because of its purpose. It is the last resort to preserve our organization from annihilation."

SAYS RUSSIA CERTAIN TO BE REPUBLIC

BOSTON, July 1.—A letter from Catherine Breshkovsky, "the little grandmother of the Russian revolution," has just been received by Miss Alice Stone Blackwell of this city. It is the first personal word heard from her in months.

Miss Breshkovsky is now in hiding, for she is a pro-war socialist, and therefore opposed to the Bolsheviks. She gives no indication of her whereabouts but, writing under the date of May 12, says:

"Till this hour I feel imprisoned and deprived of the pleasure of breathing fresh air. Otherwise I would remain as strong and as fresh as you know me. My freedom, like that of my best friends, lasted for half a year only. No doubt there are destinies that are the fate of some persons from their childhood to their death. I am so accustomed to such a situation that it would be difficult for me to believe in the reality of enjoying quietly the right to feel free forever."

Learning Its Lesson

"Our poor country is only in the first class of the institute of political science. Yet I hope that our allies will not forsake us, and will aid us as they have done all these four years. As soon as we are healthy we can be of use, too, for after this terrible experience, the poor peasantry will be ashamed of their foolishness, and more prudent in their actions and enterprises. I see how many people are more quiet, more reasonable and hopeful."

"Nobody will believe in the defeat of the commonwealth forever. On the contrary, after a lesson so cruel and so profound, we expect to see the whole world on a new way of life and prosperity. Only to get the Germans disarmed and pacified."

"It is possible that I am not destined to see realized all my hopes and anxieties, but nevertheless I shall leave the world with my faith in the progress of humanity, of the human soul, as strong as it was during all my life."

"If you all remain as hopeful for us, as you have been until lately, I will thank my destiny and fortify my soul with the idea that we are not left by our friends at the mercy of our enemies."

DEMAND O'CONNELL'S DISBARMENT

The following article relative to a demand for the disbarment of Attorney Daniel O'Connell, said to be Bernard D. O'Connell, is from the San Francisco Examiner, under date of Sunday, June 23:

Attorney Daniel O'Connell, under seven years' sentence for violation of the Espionage act, is to be brought before the supreme court of California for disbarment on three counts of fraud and misappropriation of a client's money. Action was brought yesterday against the convicted lawyer by the board of governors of the Bar association of San Francisco.

O'Connell is accused of having been disbarred by the supreme judicial court of Massachusetts in 1895 under the name of Bernard D. O'Connell, where it is also charged he was convicted of bribery a year or so prior to his disbarment. This conviction was sustained, according to the report to the Bar association, by the grievance committee, which investigated the charges here.

The Bar association charges that O'Connell committed a fraud on the courts of California by not disclosing his record in Massachusetts when he was admitted to practice law in California.

DEBS ARRESTED

Former Socialist Candidate
for President was Taken at Cleveland

Arraigned in Court Today
on Charge of Violating
Espionage Act

CLEVELAND, O., July 1.—Eugene V. Debs, four times socialist candidate for the presidency of the United States, was arrested here yesterday by United States Marshal Charles W. Lapp and Deputy Marshal Charles Boehme as he was about to deliver a socialist address.

The arrest was made on a federal warrant in connection with Debs' speech at the socialist state convention in Canton, O., June 18 last. A secret indictment was returned Saturday by the federal grand jury.

It is understood the indictment contains 18 specific counts under Section 3 of the Espionage act, as amended by the passage of the Sedition bill on May 16 last, which provides a penalty of 20 years in the penitentiary and a fine of $10,000 and costs for each violation.

Will Be Arraigned Today

Mr. Debs will be arraigned in federal court today before Judge D. C. Westenhaver, when the matter of bail will be decided. He spent last night in the Cuyahoga county jail in the custody of Marshal Lapp.

Mr. Debs refused to make any statement regarding his arrest. Department of Justice, Federal Agent John F. Hawkin and members of the American Protective League have been working on the case since the delivery of the Canton speech.

Mr. Debs arrived in Cleveland yesterday to address a socialist gathering. He was taken into custody as he was about to enter the garden where the meeting was held. No commotion was caused, as few persons were aware of what was transpiring until after Mr. Debs was taken to the Federal building.

Following the announcement of Mr. Debs' arrest a defense fund of more than $1000 was raised by popular subscription before the meeting was ended. Edwin S. Wertz, United States attorney for the Northern District of Ohio, and Assistant Attorneys Joseph Breitenstein and F. C. DeKavanagh will handle the case for the government.

Counsel Makes Statement

Following the arrest, Mr. Wertz made the following statement: "No man is too big to be held responsible for his acts under the Espionage act or any other law of the United States."

"Mr. Debs was indicted, not as a socialist, but as a violator of the law of the United States because of things he said in his Canton speech," said Asst. Atty. Breitenstein.

The federal jury has presented to it for consideration during the past two weeks many other cases under the Espionage act," said Asst. Atty. DeKavanagh. Among the persons charged are not only socialists, but many who are members of other political party affiliations. The government is not prosecuting these men because they are socialists.

THE TORPEDO DESTROYER

LUCE LAUNCHED

BOSTON, July 1.—Another of the latest type of torpedo destroyers was quietly launched at the Fore River plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding company at Quincy yesterday afternoon. It was named the Luce, in honor of the late Stephen Bleeker Luce, rear admiral in the United States navy and one of the most honored names in the navy's annals.

The launching, like all launches in war time, was marked with little ceremony. Mrs. Charlotte Luce Noyes of Newport, R. I., daughter of the admiral, acted as sponsor. Mrs. Noyes was attended by her brother, John D. Henley Luce of 267 Clarendon street, and a small group of personal friends, who were received by General Manager Wakeman and Mrs. Wakeman. Mrs. Noyes was presented by Mr. Wakeman with American Beauty roses and a modest souvenir of the event.

The launching of a war vessel at the Fore River plant is now a matter of great frequency. One was launched a week ago, and another is scheduled to be launched Thursday, the fourth. The officials at the plant have made no special effort to celebrate the fourth, as General Manager Wakeman declares that every day is special effort day at Fore River and that the next launching should be on the fourth. In adding to the strength of the United States navy, the Quincey plant and the Quantum plant of the company are hitting their stride, the number now employed running close to 20,000. These latest type destroyers are launched in less than one-third the time required a few months ago. When the Quantum plant begins launching some time this month it is anticipated that all world's records in launching and delivering destroyers will be shattered.

Rear Admiral Luce, for whom the new destroyer is named, rendered conspicuous service in the Civil war, and also founded the Naval War college, and was mainly instrumental in establishing the present naval training system. He died a year ago, in his 81st year.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A delightful birthday party was recently held at Mrs. Kelly's home, 132 Avon street, in honor of her daughter, Abbie, and Miss Henrietta Davis. It was an evening of delightful surprises. Mr. Chris Kelly presented Miss Abbie Kelly with a beautiful wrist watch and pendant, while he also presented Miss Davis with a beautiful bracelet. Both young ladies were overjoyed. The house was beautifully decorated with the national colors and flags. Wild flowers and peonies made a very lovely background. Refreshments were served by Miss Cora Davis and Mrs. McQuillan. The party came to an end with all present singing "The Star Spangled Banner" and "America, Forever."

At a regular meeting of the members of the Pavers and Rammer Men's union held Saturday evening at 32 Middle st., it was voted to send a delegate to the international convention to be held in New York during the week of July 8 and 9. J. J. Garity was the choice of the assembly. Routine business was also transacted.

THE MILL STRIKE

While we do not presume to pass upon the issues involved in the local mill strike inaugurated this morning, it does seem that some modus vivendi might have been reached by which it could have been avoided.

The times are unusual and a great mill strike under present economic conditions and with our country engaged in the greatest war of all history, becomes a most serious matter not only for the parties involved but for the city and even for the United States government, which needs the continued labor of every essential factory in the land and of every individual employed in all those factories.

The mill operatives demanded an increase of 15 per cent; the mill agents granted 10 per cent, whereupon the operatives or their representatives made a second demand for the additional 5 per cent, and in so doing they notified the agents that unless a notice were posted in the mills at noon, Saturday, announcing that the additional 5 per cent. would be granted, they would refuse to go to work this morning. The agents replied that they could not afford the extra 5 per cent. They had granted 95 per cent. in the past two years and decided they would have to refuse this final demand, with the result that this morning the strike was on and most of the mills either idle or badly crippled in their operations.

It is to be hoped that prompt steps will be taken to reach a settlement so that both sides may be saved from the loss of prolonged idleness. If there is no other way out, the strike can be settled as are railroad, mining and most other strikes in these times of national stress, by giving the strikers what they want and charging it up to the consumers so as to push the cost of living one notch higher.

One objection which the mills would naturally offer even to that mode of settlement is, that they would lose heavily on contracts already made for manufactured products to be delivered in the future. That is undoubtedly true. Government intervention is talked of. It is difficult to see how the government can settle such disputes unless by giving the strikers what they want and making the people pay.

OUR VICTORIES OVER THERE

Already we are assured that about one million American soldiers are in France. Of these probably 750,000 are of the combatant class. Great interest will be felt as to the showing our troops will make on entering the struggle on a large scale on the western battlefield.

Already the United States troops have had a good many battles with the enemy and in each and every case they gave a splendid account of themselves. When General Foch and Joffre stopped the Hun at the Marne in 1914, the real significance of the victory was not realized. When it was found that this battle turned the Germans on their tracks and saved not only Paris but civilization as well, then it dawned upon the Allies that their victory was destined to become historic. But in 1918, the Hun again reached the Marne and were making progress southward until stopped by the American marines, who won a smashing victory at Chateau-Thierry.

But not alone at this point, but in reality in every battle in which our troops have met the enemy, they have shown a spirit of courage and dash and a degree of skill and initiative that have inspired the worn heroes of France and the stubborn Tommies of England.

At Cantigny and Veully, Jaulgonne, Belleau Wood, Bourches and Selcheprey they acquitted themselves with the freshness and vigor of new men but showed a degree of courage and skill worthy of the highly trained troops of France.

From these beginnings we may expect great achievements from our army in France. Already a large section of the war front, perhaps about fifty miles, is held by United States troops, while a certain portion of our army has been brigaded with the French and English armies.

These will be released to join their own divisions and then the full force of the American army will be made available in holding a more extended section of the front. Before November the United States will have nearly 1,500,000 men in France and Italy. That will give the Allies a clear superiority of numbers on the western front and this will remove all possibility of Germany winning the war by a decisive blow. Then will start the work of driving back the Teutons and carrying the war into German territory. The Kaiser will fight desperately for a while, after the tide of victory turns against him, and then his devoted people who have believed his statement that God has been on his side will conclude that God has gone over to the side of the Allies and that Satan alone could be sponsor for the fate that is surely coming to the German war lords and Prussian Junkers. Already a detachment of American troops has landed in Italy ready to assist in driving home the recent victory over the Austrians and to help in the movement to enter Austria for the purpose of starting towards Vienna and Berlin. The Kaiser will now have an opportunity to revise his opinion of the Americans as a military force.

The brilliant action of our troops in France together with the action of congress in voting vast amounts for defense shows the determination of the government to win the war at all costs. It may be necessary to put an army of three or four million men in the field, but the great program soon to be evolved by Secretary Baker will probably be such as will fully convince the Teutons that their hope of victory is forever doomed.

FEDERAL LABOR CONTROL

After August 1, no employer with war business who has a force of more than 100 workers will be permitted to recruit common labor and all such employers will be required to use the federal employment service. In time it is proposed to extend the federal agency's employment field to include skilled labor. It will from the beginning regulate and control employment in non-war work by governmental control over raw materials, fuel and transportation.

The new labor-supply program will be conducted in accordance with the following four cardinal principles:

1. War work must have men at any cost.
2. Withdrawals of workers from non-essential industries for war industries will be equalized.
3. The volunteer principle will be followed in dealing with the individual worker.
4. Only fit men will be sent to war industries.

This means that the labor resources of the country are going to back up the fighting resources in the most efficient and capable manner. It means the end of wholesale labor "stealing" and "poaching" that has been largely responsible for the disorganization of the labor supply. No longer will private labor agencies reap a profit by tempting workers in one part of the country to leave their jobs and go to another section, often far distant, under promises of higher wages that too often prove delusive.

Inadequate as the immediate supply of unskilled labor is, from 25 to 40 per cent of it has been rendered idle because it has been rushed from place to place by the recruiting agents.

Farmers will be one of the essential producers to benefit. In many sections, notably in the south and east, farms have been swept bare of labor by private recruiting agents. This practice will be ended and this year agents will be prevented from going on farms and taking away harvest labor at the time it is most needed.

There will be no conscription of labor, nothing compulsory upon the worker's side other than the "work or fight" order affects those of draft age, and there will be no attempt made to prevent any worker from changing his job or applying for another one if he wants to. The restraint will be all on side of the labor-recruiting employer. For instance, it will be impossible for a street car company which boycotts its own employees because they wear union buttons to go out into the rural districts and coax farm hands out of the food fields.

Another thing, if the workers receive labor appeals from the United States employment service they will know that there is dire need. Writing about the employment service, President Wilson says: "It must also protect labor from insincere and thoughtless appeals made to it under the plea of patriotism, and assure it that when it is asked to volunteer in some priority industry, the need is real."

This is nothing more or less than getting our war labor problems down to a real win-the-war efficiency basis, placing war work above all others, where it rightly belongs and where it must stay until the day of final and complete victory.

RUSSIAN GENERAL COMING

We are to be told by Kerensky himself his side of the Russian story. He is coming to the United States for that purpose. He is going to tell America what America can and should do to help Russia out of the clutches of the German conqueror and get back into the great world fight for world-wide democracy.

Kerensky is the leader of the Russian faction or party which stands in the midway ground between the Russian bureaucracy and the Russian Bolsheviks. His last words before dropping out of sight were a message to the Allies telling them that Russia was war weary and could no longer fight on the eastern front. Now he is quoted as saying that Russia will again spring to arms against the Hun if given assistance by America, France and Great Britain. He prefers "assistance" rather than "intervention."

We will be interested in what he has to say about Japan and her offer to help keep German hands off Siberia and to protect allied interests there; to hear what his party hopes to do for the people of Russia; what his party will do to establish democracy on a firm basis in Russia.

We will be interested also in hearing him tell how he proposes to put Russia back into the ranks of the nations fighting for the same high and glorious cause.

At the present moment the United States is standing on the fence, so to speak, prepared to jump to the side which promises justice and liberty to the Russian people and help for the nations who are fighting for justice and liberty for all people.

Czarism in Russia is dead. Bolshevik policies cannot last. Something must be done in Russia and for Russia. It may be that we shall know what to do and how to do it after Kerensky comes here.

SEEN AND HEARD

Right makes right, but it is one of those rules that don't work both ways.

A Hale Fellow

Talk about your Hale fellows, the state of Maine has them to gloat over. Take Eugene Hale of Maine, for instance. He is the grandson of a United States senator, a son of a United States senator and the brother of a United States senator. Incidentally, he is a millionaire in his own right and 41 years of age, yet he induced the war board to waive his exemption and enlisted as a private in the army. He might have had a commission, but insisted on starting in the ranks. It is little incidents like this that encourage the thought that the world is being made safe for democracy.—Los Angeles Times.

A Camouflager

A story is told by the dean of Carlisle. It concerns a clergyman who, taking occasional duty for a friend in one of the moorland churches in a remote corner of Cumberland, was one day greatly scandalized on observing the old vergers, who had been collecting the offertory, quietly abstract a half-crown before presenting the plate at the altar rails.

After service he called the old man into the vestry and told him, with emotion, that his crime had been discovered.

The vergers looked puzzled. Then a sudden light dawned on him.

"Why, sir, you don't mean that old half-crown of mine? Why, I've led off with this last fifteen year."—Manchester Guardian.

It Quite Unserviced

The other Monday afternoon a woman rushed excitedly down an alley in a poor quarter of Manchester and, stopping at a house, knocked loudly.

Receiving no reply she knocked a second time. Still no answer.

A third time she knocked, and then a window above was hastily flung open and a woman whose appearance betrayed signs of a sudden awakening leaned out.

"Well, what is it?" she asked. The woman below looked up and exclaimed, with bated breath:

"Mrs. Skinner, yer 'usband's got 10 days in jail!"

"Dear, dear Mr. Jones," was the reply, "is that all? 'Ow you did unnerve me! Ah thought it was that scarecrow after the rent again!"—Tit-Bits.

How He Co-operated

Cornelius Vanderbilt tells this one: "At the Grand Central station one young man was seeing another off, when three very pretty girls got in the Pullman."

"The departing young man was smitten by the three girls' charms, and he muttered to his friend:

"Look here, to oblige me, you know, won't you put your head in at the door just as the train pulls out, and shout in a loud voice, 'Then I'll close the Fifth Avenue house, sir, and store the silver on the yacht.'"

"The other chap agreed to do this, and the one smitten with the girls sat and waited for the thing to come to pass, his eyes fixed on their pretty faces."

"Finally the whistle blew. The obliging chap outside hopped up on the back platform, stuck his head in at the door, and yelled:

"Hey, you, tell your boss if that suit of mine ain't home Saturday night! I won't have it at all!"—Detroit Free Press.

In Luck at Last

Asst. Sec. Byron Newton of the treasury, once a newspaperman, he heard a good deal about two and two making four, high cost of living, two living as cheaply as one, and the like. But he believes that while much can be done as adjust incomes to expenses that not a few individuals on this earth are a little remiss in their domestic expenditures. Hence he refers to the case of Brownleigh. He was a man about town, who had to work for a living, but never worked long. He was always short.

His friends, who had often loaned him money, were glad to see that he appeared in their midst one day in an excellent humor. They saw visions of repaid loans.

"You must be in luck," one hinted.

"Sure, boys," Brownleigh replied, rubbing his hands. "I am out of debt at last!"

His friends complimented him and an inheritance seemed the plausible explanation.

"Did a rich uncle die?"

"Quite! But I feel like a new man now! I am square with the world! Every bill I owed was outlawed yesterday!"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Yellow Fever

A mosquito appropriately striped with black is responsible for the spread of yellow fever. This insect, known as the Aedes calopus, conveys the infection from one person to another.

The disease develops suddenly. It frequently comes on at night or in the early morning. The patient is taken with a chill, followed by a headache, pain in the back and fever.

The pulse is rapid at first, but afterward falls, even though the temperature remains high. The skin has a slight flush and the upper lip is often swollen.

A diet in yellow fever is very important. For the first day or two very little, if any, food should be given. A little milk diluted with vichy water may be allowed every three hours.

Later a little broth and very gradually, when the fever is reduced, other light and easily digested articles may be allowed in small quantities at regular intervals.

If the fever is high and the patient restless 10 grains of aspirin may afford relief, and if necessary, a second dose may be given after an interval of three hours.

Vichy or other alkaline mineral water should be given in small quantities frequently repeated. It is often difficult to tell yellow fever from malarial fever. The yellow fever chill usually occurs in the night or early morning while the chill of malarial fever takes place at any time during the day.

A Girl Like You

It's the faith of a little girl like you That counts when the world goes blue

When a fellow's down and mighty blue And his lips can voice no song.

When his loneliness seems hard to bear And the scheme of life proves tame, It's knowing somehow, that still you

That makes a fellow game.

When he wants to quit in the first Turn back in the grilling race,

When the goal beyond don't seem worth while And he balks at the speedy pace,

It's then that the faith of a girl like you Makes him reckon the coward's cost.

And he plays to win as a man should do. The game he might have lost.

It's girls like you that keep men straight. Keep them white clear through and clean.

It's girls like you that make men great. And not what they might have been.

Oh! it's good for the man when all seems night. When the clouds hide the goal from view.

Just to knuckle down and fight, yes fight. For the sake of a girl like you.

PERCY W. REYNOLDS in Springfield Union.

Human Nature Gambler

To the average person who rushes from his apartment to the subway, the emotion, the man who skips him to whisper something about "chick" and "ol' close" is but a lowly dealer in castoff garments. But in reality the old clothes dealer is a gambler in human nature, who counts his profits not in the difference between the cost and selling price of the garments hardly, but his daily find of cash, jewels or valuable papers that are in one of every 12 suits that pass through his hands.

One dealer in second-hand clothes, who covers a territory he has mapped out for himself in the Washington Heights district, estimates that $5000 a year is a conservative estimate on the money left in discarded clothing of the average New Yorker. His findings last year, according to his own estimates, totaled $5600.

"Of course, I try to restore any jewel that I find in the pocket of a suit I buy," he said. "If I know where the suit comes from I take it back immediately and usually am given a reward."

"But in buying old clothes you must remember that we get many suits in the course of a day; we meet many people and we don't have time to do much examining of pockets if we are going to get over the district we must cover."

The result is that if I get in at night with half a dozen suits, I nearly always find something stuck in some hidden pocket in one of the coats. Sometimes it is a five-dollar bill that the owner tried to hide from his wife and succeeded in hiding from himself. Sometimes it is a piece of small change.

STEAM COAL. We believe Lowell is short on soft coal and is going to be shorter, so we are preparing for it and expect about 3000 tons from the Georges Creek region. Our coal is a good standard coal and much better than a lot we have recently seen. We haven't any New River Coal, but we have a good grade, that should satisfy you and can supply practically any amount, and if you need any you had better see us at once. It will look pretty good to you next winter.

DRACUT NEWS

The Navy Yard section of Dracut was ably represented in the graduating class of the Lowell high school this year. Frederick Stevens, son of the Hon. George H. Stevens, was one of the most popular members of the class. He was prominent in many school activities and was captain of Co. H, which has won several prizes.

Miss F. H. Boyle of Parker avenue, and Miss Irene Storey of Dinley street, were also among the graduates.

Miss Margaret Kiernan of Collinsville, has resigned as principal of the Parker Avenue school to accept a government position in Washington. The employees of the Merrimack Woolen Co. were agreeably surprised upon finding a 10 per cent. increase in their pay envelopes last Friday.

The wages now being paid are the highest in the history of the company. The old sign board at the corner of Pleasant street and Lakeview avenue has been torn down and a new one is being constructed.

Evidence of war activities are everywhere seen about the town. War gardens are everywhere springing up and more than one household is hastening to the plan to help relieve the food situation by "raising a little pig." One can hardly find a single house which is not displaying the familiar little blue-bordered pennant which denotes that the occupants have promised to buy war savings stamps. Dracut is certainly doing its bit toward winning this war.

Pawtucket Congregational

Dr. George E. Pickard spoke yesterday morning at the Pawtucket Congregational church on "The Man Four-Square for the Times." He showed how the men of the country are measuring up to the needs of the times in four salient directions. He said that men were measuring up to the standard of length by the sacrifices which they were making, to that of breadth by their ready sympathy and their response to the appeals of various organizations, to that of depth because of their activities and to that of height because of their upward tendencies. Last evening's service was the last to be held until the fall. The usual morning services will continue, however.

CAMP NEWS

DRAFTS AT CAMP DEVENS MUST NOT LEND THEIR AUTOS TO OFFICERS

CAMP DEVENS, July 1.—In the week-end exodus of automobiles loaded with uniformed men Saturday and in the long lines of marching with the same sort of load returning yesterday there was just one little change from other weeks. Officers weren't riding in cars they had borrowed from enlisted men.

Before headquarters realized it there had grown up here a practice, pleasant enough in its way, but not conducive to the best sort of discipline, in the opinion of high officers. Privates and noncoms who are young men of means or who come from families of wealth have been loaning their machines to lieutenants and other officers to whom $25 a week would have looked pretty good as a private salary.

"You can take my car and run over to Fitchburg tonight if you want to, captain," was a remark made by more than one corporal or sergeant this spring. Barracks were being parked outside barracks.

Headquarters decided it wasn't quite the thing. It might lead some enlisted men to think having a car helped toward advancement. So an order has stopped the practice. Now officers who don't own cars will have to hustle for jitneys and catch the locals out of Ayer, while Private Made of Money in his command wheels over the road in a powerful car.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM LOWELL SOLDIERS IN THE WAR ZONE

Private Cormick A. Kiernan, whose being wounded in action in France, was chronicled in The Sun recently, had written an interesting letter to his wife in this city in which he tells of how he was hit by a German machine gun bullet. The letter is dated June 11, four days after he was wounded. In part it is as follows:

June 11, 1918.
Dear Wife: I am writing you a few lines hoping that they will find you in the best of health. As you know, as well as I expect, I believe you have been notified of my being wounded in battle. Well, it is nothing for you to worry over, for the time this letter reaches you I will be well again and back with my company.

Just a small account of our battle: On the morning of June 11, at 10 o'clock we started to take a hill a mile away from our lines. We got within 300 yards of the Germans. Then we located a German machine gun on top of the hill. Six of us crept along the edge of the woods until we got within about 150 yards of the Germans. It was then that I was struck by a machine gun bullet in the right arm, just below the elbow. I was able to continue with the boys.

With in 50 yards of the Hun we opened fire and the 30 and making them, killing 13 of them and making 100 of them. There were only two of us left. Fred Kerick of Springfield was the other man.

We got back to our camp with the prisoners and captured the machine gun. I was then sent to the first aid station, where I had my wound dressed and later I was taken to a hospital. I am receiving the best of care and expect to leave within 10 days and I hope to be able to get back to my company. So there is nothing for you to worry about. I am all right. Just keep praying for me. Love to all.

Your loving son, BILL.

CORMICK.

MILITARY WEDDING AT ST. MARGARET'S RECTORY

A pretty military wedding took place at St. Margaret's rectory yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when Miss Marie R. Sullivan of the high school of Boston, now a member of the U. S. navy and stationed at Commonwealth pier, were married by Rev. Charles J. Galligan, pastor.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Grace D. Sullivan, while the groom, who is a member of the regular army on duty at Camp Merritt, New Jersey, acted as best man. The bride was charmingly attired in white Georgette crepe. She wore a veil and carried a bouquet of pink and white roses. The groom's gift to his bride was a beautiful diamond sunburst, and the gift to the bridesmaid was a sapphire ring. The best man received a military kit. After the ceremonies the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. William H. Sullivan, 42 Forrest street, where a reception was held and dinner served to the immediate families of the contracting parties. The interior of the house was artistically decorated for the occasion, the national colors predominating in the decorative scheme. The happy couple received many beautiful presents, including gifts from the bride's former pupils as well as from the teachers of the high school. Mr. and Mrs. Anselmo left early in the evening for an extended trip, which will include New York and other points of interest. Upon their return they will reside in Boston.

KILLED IN ACTION IN WAR ZONE

Private Charles K. Buk, Headquarters Co., 101st regiment, was killed in action in France on June 19, according to a telegram received by his sister, Mrs. Swiderska, of 39 West Fourth street. Private Buk was a resident of this city and last July enlisted with Co. G of the old 101st regiment. He trained at Framingham, Ayer and Westfield and went to France in September. Later he was transferred to the headquarters company of the 101st regiment.

The soldier was born in Galicia, Poland, where he leaves his parents. Another brother is in the service of the United States and an only sister is Mrs. Swiderska, who received the news of his death. Deceased was well known in local Polish circles and was a member of the Polish societies. In his letters home he had urged young men to enlist in the national service.

ARMY AND NAVY

Albert S. Levesque, of Nashua, N. H., and George P. Grady, 22 Maple street, this city, were forwarded from the local navy station this morning as seamen, second class, for the naval reserve.

Thomas Cummings, 31 Otis street, was the regular thirty station's contribution. He enlisted in the coast artillery.

Sergeant Alec Blinman, who is at present stationed at the regular army station in Merrimack street as a representative of the British and Canadian recruiting mission since his arrival three men to enlist. They are his recruits for the Canadian Expeditionary Force: J. Morris, J. Carrien, R. Bennett, H. Wearing, F. Dube, D. Chasse, S. Mason.

DAN O'DEA'S ORDINANCE TEAM DEFEATED BY U. S. CARTRIDGE COMPANY NINE

Dan O'Dea's Ordinance team from Camp Devens made what will probably turn out to be their final appearance in Lowell when they were defeated by the U. S. Cartridge company from Greater Boston, 5 to 1.

In the fifth inning the Devens men had a lead of two runs, but two errors allowed the bullet makers to send across four in the one stanza and after this stage they were not seriously considered. Stevens, the former league twirler, pitched a first rate game for the losers and slammed out two singles and a double out of four appearances at the plate. Mulno pitched a steady game for Lowell and was well supported. The score:

Camp Logan, June 9, 1918.

Dear Father: Just a few lines to let you know I received your letter. We have moved again. We are in a training camp now, Camp Logan, where we have all new men now and are filled up to war strength. So it looks as though we still have a chance to go to France. I want to get a crack at a Hun. We have a fine time in this camp with entertainments every evening.

Well, I will close now, hoping this letter finds you well as it leaves me now.

WEST ENDS DEFEATED IN ONE-SIDED GAME ON THE TEXTILE CAMPUS

The C.M.A.C. defeated the West Ends, 10 to 1, in a one-sided game on the Textile campus Saturday afternoon.

The West Ends were a little younger than their opponents but for the first few innings put up a really brilliant game. Connors in the box held the C.M.A.C. in his power during the early stages but once the wagon roared got whirling it was all over.

boards are going over questionnaires. The order is expected to drive numbers of young men from the non-productive occupations into necessary work.

As a result there is a greater demand than ever before for female help, the order effectually removing all men of draft age from positions as sales clerks in stores and workers in offices, as well as affecting those engaged in serving food and drinks and attendants in hotels and apartment houses and elevator operators.

State Law Also Hits Loafers

This is going to be a hard month for the loafer, for on top of Gen. Crowder's order is the state law, recently passed, that will compel all able-bodied men between 15 and 50 years old to work. This bill does not become operative, however, until July 12.

Regardless of their classification by selection boards men of draft age must engage in employment headed to the production of the army. As soon as a board determines that a person in deferred classification is an idler, or is engaged in non-productive service, the classification and order numbers of such a person will be withdrawn and he will be immediately inducted into the military service.

It is not anticipated that any selection board will act hastily. The boards are expected to use common sense in carrying out the order. As hundreds of men in the state undoubtedly will have to change their employment, some time will be necessary to give them an opportunity to become settled and selection boards will aid registrants in making necessary changes in supply lists of those summoned for examination to the United States employment service.

The list of non-productive occupations as issued by Washington is specific and employers will not be permitted to retain in their service men affected by the order. Automatically they cease to be non-productive employees and will find productive employment immediately or become classified as idlers, which will result in their induction into the service.

Many Registrants Affected

Adolphus M. Burroughs, chairman of selection board 5 of Boston, in which district there is a large foreign speaking element, said last night that in his division alone there are probably 2300 men of draft age who are not engaged in productive occupations.

These men have registered, but a large number of them, he said, are not aware of the new ruling.

Fourteen nationalities, Mr. Burroughs said, are represented in his district and it is some task to make the men of these various races understand just what they must do.

Mr. Burroughs said that the order already has had a good effect in the West End, where he noticed that idlers are becoming decidedly rare. This, he suggested, is a anti-vice campaign conducted during the past two weeks, Mr. Burroughs said, had worked wonders in driving the idlers off the streets.

It is expected that a meeting of the chairmen of the Boston selection boards to discuss the situation will take place this week.

CHARGED ON CHARGE

MURDER LAUGHTER

Murder of West Peterboro. — A man was arraigned in police court this morning on the charge of manslaughter in causing the death of John H. Roche, who was struck by an auto driven by Marsden at the corner of Howard and Westford streets Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock. Roche died at the Lowell Corporation hospital seven hours later.

Roche was an employee of the Daniel Gage Ice Co., and was engaged in his work when the accident occurred. He has been a resident of Lowell for the past six or eight years but as yet no trace of his relatives has been learned except that it was intimated that he had a sister named Lynn and a brother in New Brunswick. Marsden is a resident of Peterboro, N. H.

At the time of the accident, according to passersby, Roche was engaged in breaking a piece of ice at the back of the wagon and had his back to the automobile when it plowed into the side of the wheel. He was rushed to the hospital but despite all efforts to save him death took place about seven hours after his admittance. Internal injuries were given as the cause.

Police officers took Marsden's name and address and soon after the death of the unfortunate man, he was notified to appear before a local court.

For Non-Support
Joseph H. Desjardens was arraigned before Judge Enright in police court this morning on a charge of failure to support his wife and a five-year-old child. He was found guilty and the case was continued one week for sentence.

Charles Stack and William Fine were charged with attempted larceny. Both men were found guilty and were ordered to pay fines of $100 each.

MILITARY MASS

Largest Congregation in History of City at O. M. I. Cadets' Annual Mass

Patriotic Music and Decorations—Members Receive Holy Communion

The largest congregation ever gathered in Lowell attended the annual military mass of the O.M.I. Cadets held yesterday at the Immaculate Conception church and perhaps never before was the event so elaborate, so impressive and so attractive to those fortunate enough to be present. Under the direction of Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I. chaplain of the organization; Maj. Joseph F. Boyd, Jr., commander, as well as the other officers of the Cadets, the 1918 military mass was easily the most successful ever held by the Belvidere organization.

REV. DENIS A. SULLIVAN, O.M.I. Chaplain

Rev. P. J. Phelan, O.M.I., celebrated

MAJ. JOSEPH F. BOYD, JR. Commander

the mass which was held at 9 o'clock. Headed by the Cadet drum corps the young soldiers marched from their armory to the church and as they passed down the centre aisle the choir sang significantly: "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

The West Point uniform which the majority of the Cadets wore contrasted pleasantly with the white of the naval reserve members and the khaki of the aviation section.

During the mass a hymn for soldiers was sung by the choir. A trio of Cadets, Charles McGowan, John O'Brien and Alfred Brown, sang "Our Lady of Good Counsel" at the offertory and at the close of the mass "America United," composed by Rev. Fr. Sullivan, was sung by the congregation. John J. Giblin played a patriotic section of the organ and the presence of every Cadet at the altar rail was one of the most inspiring features of the occasion.

"True Patriotism" was the theme of Rev. Fr. Sullivan's sermon. He spoke of the inevitable corollary that if one were a good Catholic he would be a good citizen; he urged the co-operation of every citizen in various phases of war work and in conclusion, spoke on the value and significance of the flag and urged the Cadets to be true soldiers of Christ so that they might be able defenders of their country's flag.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. On the main altar were more than 200 dozens of American Beauty roses and beaumont carnations. The altar of the Blessed Virgin Mary was swathed in white roses and that of St. Joseph was adorned in blue. Standards of red, white and blue were in happy evidence about the church.

To add to the strictly military character of the affair, all the singing was done by Cadets. In addition to the numbers mentioned, Cadet John Cottor sang a solo in excellent voice.

At the conclusion of the mass Cateran Lyndon served breakfast at the Cadet armory to the young soldiers.

HUN PEACE TERMS
Want British Fleet, Gibraltar to Spain—Egypt and Suez Canal to Turkey

England, France and U. S. Must Pay Indemnity of $45,000,000,000

PARIS, July 1.—Great Britain must turn over its war fleet to Germany, return Gibraltar to Spain and restore Egypt and the Suez canal to Turkey. Great Britain, France and the United States must pay Germany an indemnity of at least $45,000,000,000. Belgium and French territory must be surrendered.

These are among the conditions included in the German peace program published in the Nachrichten of Goerlitz, Prussia, by Count Roon, a member of the Prussian house of lords, according to a dispatch from Basel, Switzerland.

Until these terms are realized there should be no armistice and no cessation of submarine warfare; the count says. His conditions are:

Annexation of Belgium with administrative autonomy in the interior.
Independence of Flanders.
Annexation of the entire Flanders coast, including Calais.
Annexation of the Briey and Longwy basins, and the Toul, Belfort and Verdun regions eastward.

Restitution to Germany of all her colonies, including Kio-Chau.

Great Britain to cede to Germany such bases and coaling stations as Germany designates.

Great Britain must return Gibraltar to Spain, cede its war fleet to Germany, restore Egypt to Turkey and the Suez canal to Turkey.

Greece must be re-established under former King Constantine with the aid of the war.

Austria and Bulgaria will divide Siberia and Montenegro.

Great Britain, France and the United States must pay all of Germany's war costs, the indemnity being a minimum of $45,000,000,000. They also must agree to deliver raw materials immediately.

France and Belgium are to remain occupied at their expense until the conditions are carried out.

TILLMAN DYING

Veteran Democratic Senator from South Carolina in Critical Condition

Stricken with Hemorrhage on Thursday—In the Senate 24 Years

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Benjamin R. Tillman, veteran democratic senator from South Carolina and chairman of the naval affairs committee, is seriously ill at his home in Washington and his recovery is regarded by his physician as doubtful.

His left side is completely paralyzed and he has been suffering from a severe recurrent cerebral hemorrhage since Thursday.

The seriousness of Senator Tillman's condition became known yesterday when his physician issued this bulletin:

"Senator Tillman is now suffering from a severe recurrent cerebral hemorrhage. There is complete paralysis of the left side. The attack came on Thursday afternoon at the senate and has been progressive. Because of previous attacks and the age of the senator, the outlook is unfavorable."

Stricken in the Senate
Senator Tillman was stricken with the hemorrhage, the second he has suffered, in the senate, Thursday. His condition since has become worse and he was unconscious almost all of yesterday.

Members of the family have been summoned to the bedside.

About 10 years ago Senator Tillman had a similar attack, which paralyzed his right side, but he recovered to a great extent.

The latest attack completely paralyzed his left side, and with advanced years and less physical resistance the outcome was said last night to be extremely doubtful.

As chairman of the senate naval affairs committee, Mr. Tillman's work has been regarded as of the highest importance, especially in connection with the navy's part in the war. He has been one of the most active members of the senate during his 24 years of continuous service.

In Senate 24 Years
Senator Tillman, who is almost 71 years old, was elected governor of South Carolina in 1890, and again in 1892, and was elected to the United States senate in 1894.

For more than a generation he has been one of the most picturesque and powerful figures in public and political life of the south.

"Pitchfork Ben" was the name given him many years ago, and one he himself did not resent, because of his vociferous style of attack upon political foes.

During recent years, Senator Tillman's bitter contest with ex-Gov. Elease, a candidate against Mr. Tillman in the present senatorial primaries, has held him in the heat of political fray even at an advanced age.

A year ago, Senator Tillman announced his virtual retirement from politics, stating he would not be a candidate for re-election, but he later decided to again offer himself for office because of the service he might do his country and his stand during the war by reason of his intimate knowledge of naval affairs.

To the Republicans
OF THE
8th. Middlesex
Senatorial District

I desire to announce my candidacy for the nomination as Senator.

I am a member of the Middlesex Bar and was connected with the firm of Greenwood Bros., doing business in Lowell for years.

I served two years in the Lowell City Government, two years as a Representative from Lowell and at present am serving in the Constitutional Convention, representing the fifth Congressional District.

I therefore feel that my business and professional training as well as my experience along legislative lines fit me to give the office intelligent service.

The present Senator, for whom I have the kindest regard, considered that Senator Marchand was entitled to but two years in the Senate. In addition to his two years Senator Colburn has been appointed to a recess committee, which is equal to three years of service.

I respectfully solicit the votes and support of the Republicans of the District.

ALLIES IMPROVE POSITIONS AS GUNS PREPARE NEW BLOW

Important Gains for French and British— Big Guns Booming from Ypres to Rheims—Italians Push On

(By the Associated Press)

Both the French and British continued yesterday and last night their recently adopted program of prodding the Germans at various points, along the Franco-Belgian line, capturing a vantage point here and there and harassing the enemy while the preparations for the resumption of his offensive are underway.

French Advance and Take Prisoners

The French hit the line in local attacks at two separate points, but both on the western side of the German salient which projects down to the Marne from the Aisne. They gained ground in each attack and took prisoners and machine guns during the fighting.

The most pronounced gain was effected by Gen. Petain's troops just above the point where their line joins the American sector northwest of Belleau wood. They advanced here south of Passy-en-Palais, and carried their line forward so that it now runs east of the Chezy-Villy railroad. In addition, they held on firmly to the ground gained the night previous just to the north, in the region of Mosloy, fighting off two German counter attacks.

French Capture 200 Huns

Southwest of Soissons, where the brilliant stroke of last week placed the French in a strong position on the important Laversere plateau, they moved ahead again in the center of their new line, gaining ground by the capture of a strong point north of Cutry.

In all the French took some 200 prisoners in these actions.

Success For British

The British stroke, which was also a local operation, was well toward the southern end of their line, just above Albert, north of the Somme river. An improvement in the British positions was effected here and machine guns and prisoners fell into their hands when they advanced.

Big Guns Booming

From Ypres to Rheims, the big guns are busier than they have been for some days and the Germans probably are preparing to react strongly against the allied nibbling tactics which cost them important points last week.

The German command is known to have large forces in readiness on the main battle fields of France. They may strike anywhere on the 200 mile main front, as their communications give them much elasticity of movement. It is expected that the blow will be the mightiest the enemy can make.

The French continue to perfect their defensive positions between the Aisne and the Marne. Southeast of the Forest of Villers-Cotterets, they have extended their line and taken 265 prisoners, while north of the forest 100 Germans were taken in a small advance near St. Pierre Aigle. The enemy did not reach strongly and the French held their positions firmly.

Expect Drive on Americans

Along the line northwest of Chateau-Thierry, where the Americans hold a sector, the Germans are reported concentrating troops and supplies. Aerial fighting has been severe near the American lines. It is not unlikely that the Germans plan to give the Americans a hard blow in payment for the recent American successes on this front.

Mills in Operation But Will Have to Close if Strike Continues— Officials Claim About 75 Per Cent. of the 15,000 Operatives Reported This Morning—Mills Will Not Employ Strike Breakers

About 75 per cent. of the cotton mill operatives are working today despite the strike which went into effect this morning under the auspices of the United Textile Workers of America, according to statements today by mill officials. On the other hand the union officials claim that the number of operatives who remained away from their work is sufficient to cripple the mills to such an extent that a general shut down will be ordered within a few days. Unless government arbitrators step in, which it is alleged, is likely to occur, the battle is one of endurance on both sides, for the mill officials are determined not to grant the additional five per cent. increase demanded over the 10 per cent. granted June 17, on the ground that they cannot afford it, while the strikers aver that they will stay out until their request is granted, claiming that Lowell should be in line with other important textile centers, which have already granted similar and larger increases.

The executive committee of the Lowell Textile council, which is in charge of the strike, met this forenoon and at the close of the session President John Golden of the United Textile Workers of America stated that the progress of the strike so far was very satisfactory.

It is claimed by mill officials that only about 10 per cent. of the operatives stayed out this morning and that inasmuch as those who remained out are skilled help, their work supplying work for others, many others were forced out inasmuch as there was nothing for them to do.

The mill officials stated to a Sun reporter this morning that those who remained away from their work were the loomfixers, beamers, slasher tenders and a small portion of the weavers, and as a result of these crafts not reporting most of the weavers were forced to leave their work. The mill agents admit that the plants are crippled to such an extent that unless a settlement is reached within a few days they probably will have to shut down altogether, but nevertheless, they state they will operate as long as they can.

No trouble is anticipated for the

WILSON URGES CONGRESS TO TAKE OVER TEL. AND TEL. LINES

Effort Will be Made to Put Through Legislation Empowering President to Take Over System

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Government control and operation of the nation's telegraph and telephone systems were recommended to congress today by President Wilson. In the face of an impending strike of union operators employed by the Western Union Co., an effort will be made to put through the recess of congress this week pending legislation empowering the president to take over the systems.

President Wilson informed the house interstate and foreign commerce committee that he is heartily in favor of legislation authorizing the government to take over the telegraph and telephone lines.

The president's views were communicated in a brief note to Chairman Sims of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee, endorsing a letter written by Postmaster General Burleson, urging legislation "at this moment when the paralysis of a large part of the system of electrical communication is threatened."

Immediately upon receipt of the president's letter the house committee arranged to report the resolution to the house with a view to its passage before the recess, which is planned for tomorrow night or later in the week.

Await Result of Strike

It is understood that the president has not concluded definitely to take over the telegraphs and telephones as soon as the power is given. He probably will await the result of the strike of Western Union operators called for Union officials claim one-fourth of the 20,000 operators of the Western Union will walk out. The company insists that the strike call will have no substantial effect upon its business.

The Resolution

The resolution which was introduced by Representative Aswell of Louisiana, reads:

"That the president if, in his discretion, it is deemed desirable in order to insure their continuous operation or to guard the secrecy of military and governmental communications, or prevent communication by spies and other public enemies thereon, or for other military or public reasons, shall have power to take possession and control of any telegraph, telephone, marine cable or radio system, and operate the same subject to those conditions of law, so far as applicable, which are in force as to steam railroads while under federal control."

The president's views were conveyed in a brief note to Chairman Sims of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee, endorsing a letter written by Postmaster General Burleson, urging legislation "at this moment when the paralysis of a large part of the system of electrical communication is threatened."

Immediately upon receipt of the president's letter the house committee arranged to report the resolution to the house with a view to its passage before the recess, which is planned for tomorrow night or later in the week.

HONOR AMERICAN TROOPS

Entertained at Palace in London—Vice Admiral Sims and T. J. McNamara Speak

LONDON, July 1.—American troops in London were entertained at the Palace theatre Sunday evening, and addresses were made by Vice Admiral Sims, commander of the American naval forces in the war zone, and T. J. McNamara, parliamentary secretary to the admiralty.

Admiral Sims said he would like to express on behalf of the Americans their gratitude to the British people for the spirit in which they had welcomed the American forces. Wherever the Americans had gone, the British people offered them the hand of welcome, he said.

"This war is promoting a good understanding between the two countries," he continued. "The British people have not always understood us perfectly, and the same is true of what we know about the British, but we now believe the Britisher is a pretty good fellow."

Posterity, said Mr. McNamara, would declare that the determination of the American people to draw the sword overwhelmingly wrote the word "victory" against Germany. America came into the struggle with profound and simple purposes and her soldiers were the new crusaders, he said.

"The lights of liberty," he added, "will be burning more brightly when our soldiers leave us than when they came."

"The rulers of Germany believed the submarine would finish this country before America could get going and it was announced to the world that it was the means of a swift victory. History will record that as the climax of Germany's barbarism and desperate miscalculations, the submarine has not given Germany a swift victory. It will not give her victory at all."

"Between Great Britain and America has been created a covenant standing for justice, freedom and immunity from all the horrors of war and the dreadful consequences of lust of conquest and power."

UNFAVORABLE REPORT ON

"GARABED" BY EXPERTS

WASHINGTON, July 1.—An unfavorable report on "Garabed," the mysterious engine which its inventor claimed would take power out of the air to run anything from an airplane to a battleship, was submitted to the interior department today by the committee of scientists which tested the invention at Boston Saturday, with the approval of congress.

The committee announced it did not believe the principles of the inventor, Garabed T. K. Giragosian, were sound or his devices operative, or that they could result in practical development of free energy.

Following is the report: "We, the undersigned, who are members of the committee duly appointed in accordance with the provisions of Public Resolution No. 31, 65th congress, hereby certify that Mr. Garabed T. K. Giragosian showed us on Saturday, June 29, 1918, a model embodying the principles of his invention known as 'Garabed.' We found that the model was not in shape to run or to develop power. The inventor admitted that he had no working machine and that he was merely explaining principles. We do not believe his principles are sound, that his devices operate, or that they can result in the practical development or utilization of free energy."

BLESSING AND RAISING OF SERVICE FLAG

Impressive simplicity marked the blessing and raising of the parish service flag at the immaculate Conception church at the close of the 11 o'clock mass yesterday. The emblem contained 23 stars, one of them golden in memory of the late Sgt. Daniel A. Sullivan of the U. S. Marines.

Thousands of people not only from the parish but from all over the city, attended the affair. At the conclusion of the mass Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O.M.I., pastor of the church; Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, O.M.I., Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., altar boys, members of the O.M.I. Cadets and members of the church choir marched to the front entrance of the church. The church grounds were crowded with spectators and it was one of the most impressive outdoor religious ceremonies that has ever been held here. The choir, assisted by members of the Cadets, opened the exercises with the singing of Cardinal O'Connell's patriotic hymn, "The Cross and the Flag." Rev. Fr. Tighe, O.M.I., then spoke briefly in substance as follows:

"We are about to assist at a simple, but at the same time significant, ceremony—the blessing and unfurling of our parish service flag. Not in the spirit of idle boasting, much less for the purpose of personal exaltation, do we unfurl this beautiful banner to the summer breeze.

"The motives that prompt our action are Christian and patriotic and may be summed up in a few brief words, love of country.

"A second motive for unfurling the flag is to instill into the hearts of the youth of this congregation greater reverence for the cross and the institutions of their country—to encourage them in undertaking what will redound to her well-being and to avoid aught that might perchance dim her glory. This flag will bespeak the gratitude that fills our hearts, for those who are faithful to a sacred trust.

"The third and perhaps most important purpose of this flag is to be a constant reminder to all our people that they, too, have a duty to perform—the duty of prayer that the boys of our congregation may be true to the best traditions of all real patriots—that they may leave nothing undone to benefit their country—and that if called to make the supreme sacrifice they will make it without flinching and with the full and confident knowledge that they are dying in a noble—yes, a sacred cause."

At the conclusion of his remarks the flag was held by five women of the parish who have several sons in the service: Mrs. Thomas F. Cummings, Mrs. Michael Quinn, Mrs. William Haggerty, Mrs. Susan Murphy and Mrs. May E. O'Donnell. Rev. Fr. Tighe blessed the flag and then it was raised aloft on the front wall of the church. As the banner made its way upward the entire assembly sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

The flag was donated by members of the Holy Rosary society of which Rev. Fr. McQuaid is director. It is 20 by 12 feet and the stars are arranged in the shape of a cross with the golden star in the centre.

U. S. SOLDIERS GOING TO ROME FOR JULY 4

PARIS, July 1.—The Stars and Stripes announced that a detachment of American soldiers will be sent to Rome to take part in the Fourth of July celebration there.

Announcement has been made that American fighting troops will be sent from France to Italy by General Pershing. An American contingent, mostly non-combatant troops, landed in Italy late last week. It is probably from one of these forces that the detachments which will go to Rome will be selected.

FIND 39 BODIES, 50 KILLED

Collapse of Big Sioux City Building Followed by Fire—Firemen Search Ruins

SIoux CITY, Ia., July 1.—Thirty-nine bodies have been recovered from the ruins of the Ruff building and firemen and volunteers, who are continuing the search of the debris, estimate that probably 50 persons were killed, when the building collapsed Saturday, carrying down with it two smaller adjacent structures. Thirty-three persons were injured, none probably fatally.

The majority of the victims burned to death, rescuers said. As the larger building toppled it buried under tons of debris the small structures occupied by the Chain Grocery company and the Beaumont meat market, imprisoning patrons and employees.

Firemen said only in a minority of cases were the bodies crushed. For the most part the victims were imprisoned and the fire which started soon after the crash burned them to death.

BRITISH SOLDIER PAYS TRIBUTE TO U. S. TROOPS

BOSTON, July 1.—Private Samuel Weir of the British Army Service Corps in a letter to his brother, Lieut. Jas. S. Weir of the British and Canadian recruiting mission at 44 Bromfield st., from somewhere in France, pays a splendid tribute to the American soldiers who have arrived overseas. The letter reads:

"Quite by chance I ran against an American infantryman, who forthwith began to tell me of his war experiences. He was quite young, being scarcely 20, but he was a sturdy example of that ever-increasing army which now arrives to take its share in the battle of the nations. He had a prolonged and varied experience in the line, and yet was brimful of hope for a complete victory in the near future.

"There can be no doubt about the high physical standard of the boys who come from 'Out West.' 'Naturally, I spoke of you in the course of conversation, and we became closer friends than ever. Have you noticed in the illustrated papers the views of Cafe Kluge, with its knot of soldiers standing around? That is the scene of our reconnoitre. Can you imagine it? It symbolizes the latest of alliances, when 'West meets East.'

MRS. GAUDETTE HONORED
A very pleasant surprise and birthday party was last evening tendered to Mrs. Axa Gaudette of the Omana camp, Mountain Rock, by a large group of friends and relatives. During the course of the evening Mrs. Gaudette was presented a substantial purse of gold on behalf of those present. An enjoyable program of music was carried out with Miss Laura Boland and William Bancroft at the piano. Private.

Joseph Harvey of Camp Devens rendered several fine solos and everyone present assisted in making the evening successful. Refreshments were served under the direction of Miss Florida Gaudette. The party "broke up" at a seasonable hour with wishes to Mrs. Gaudette and family.

BOLSHEVIKI SURRENDERS FLEET TO GERMANY

LONDON, July 1.—The Bolshevik government has surrendered to Germany part of the Russian Black sea fleet which fled to Novorossiysk when the Germans captured Sebastopol, says an official telegram from Moscow. The other ships of the fleet were blown up by the crews. Germany has promised not to use the warships and to return them to Russia after the conclusion of peace. Foreign Minister Tchitcherine's announcement says:

"The return of part of the fleet from Novorossiysk to Sebastopol was agreed to on the express condition that Germany give a guarantee that the ships would not be utilized by Germany and her allies in the war and that they be returned to Russia after the conclusion of a general peace, and that German troops not cross the line of demarcation, which approximately coincides with their position at the opening of the negotiations with the Ukraine. It was only on condition that such an agreement be concluded Germany stopped the advance of the German troops toward Novorossiysk.

MOSCOW, Sunday, June 23 (By the Associated Press).—Only one dreadnaught and three destroyers of the Russian Black sea fleet, were returned to Sebastopol in compliance with the German demand, the correspondent is reliably informed. The number of ships blown up by their crew was much larger than those given over to the Germans.

SACRED HEART PARISH FIELD DAY, JULY 4

Everything is in readiness for the annual parish picnic and field day of the Sacred Heart parishioners scheduled to be held on the parochial grounds, Moore st., on Thursday afternoon and evening next.

This annual event is usually looked forward to by the Sacred Heart parishioners and their hosts of friends throughout the city, as the most enjoyable feature of Independence day festivities and the various committees who have been laboring zealously to promote the success of the affair, feel confident that this year's celebration will surpass in excellence any event of its kind yet held under the auspices of the Sacred Heart parishioners.

As in former years the midway will be one of the popular attractions. The midway furnishes enjoyment for the young and old, and brings the parishioners together in social intercourse as the members of one happy family. Space does not permit an enumeration of the many attractions to be seen along the midway, but that all the thrills and activities of the old time night before, will be presented, is assured. The beautiful parochial grounds, always so inviting, but never more so than at this particular season of the year, present an ideal location for this grand parish reunion. The gall, bedecked bottle scattered throughout the grounds, when illuminated as evening approaches, with myriads of incandescent lights will present a pretty spectacle.

An open air entertainment under the direction of professional artists will be an interesting feature of the afternoon program. The performers will entertain with many clever demonstrations of the Houdiniism and some difficult feats will be presented. Under the direction of Chet Hartigan an excellent program of athletic events has been arranged. There will be races of all kinds, money hunts and pie eating contests. The novel "U and I" race will be introduced on this occasion, and an interesting contest is expected.

Paramount interest, however, is centered in the beautiful patriotic program scheduled for the late afternoon. Under the direction of John J. Kelly, the popular organist, a hundred trained voices will be heard in patriotic selections.

Hon. John J. Mitchell, United States marshal, will be the orator of the occasion. Mr. Mitchell is an orator of exceptional ability and those who have had the pleasure of listening to his addresses on former occasions aver that a rare treat is in store for the Sacred Heart parishioners on July 4th.

Nothing has been left undone to make this coming event a successful one, paralleled in the history of the parish, and judging from the universal interest being manifested in the affair, the expectations of the committee will be fully realized.

The officers of the day are: General manager, Michael Slattery; assistant general manager, John Dean; secretary, James Keenan; treasurer, Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE

American Officers in Automobile Attacked by German Airplane

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Sunday, June 30.—(By the Associated Press) An American lieutenant colonel and two other officers had a thrilling experience Friday night with a German airplane. They were travelling along a road in an automobile when the enemy aviator fired on them with his machine gun.

The chauffeur increased his speed to the limit while the bullets rained all about the automobile. The lieutenant colonel found a way out of the ticklish situation by turning off the lights and stopping the automobile. Before this could be done, however, one of the other officers was wounded slightly. The enemy airplane finally flew off.

23 OF CREW MISSING

20 More Dwinsk Survivors Reach Hampton Roads

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Arrival at Hampton Roads, Va., of 20 more survivors of the British troopship Dwinsk, torpedoed and sunk 700 miles east of the Delaware Capes, June 13, was reported yesterday to the navy department. Among them was Lieut. Ross E. Whitmarsh, U.S.N. Twenty-three of the crew of 143 are now missing.

Keegan, with eight or nine passengers, was coming toward Lowell and upon reaching Glen Forest, saw a Pierce-Arrow limousine cutting across the road. Keegan stated that he kept to his side of the road, expecting the Boston man to do likewise, but the limousine kept coming toward him and finally struck the jitney in the rear, killing Walton almost instantly and injuring the others. Gregory Krislovitch who was seriously injured, was removed to a Lawrence hospital.

Charge of Manslaughter
O'Brien, the driver of the Boston automobile, was arraigned in the police court at Lawrence this morning on complaints charging him with manslaughter and operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. He pleaded not guilty on both charges. On the manslaughter charge he was held in $500 for the grand jury and on the other charge he was continued to July 3.

APPEAL TO COURT

Manufacturers to Test Government's Contention for Fees and Commissions

Ruled It was Illegal to Pay Agents for Getting Government Contracts

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The government's contention that it is illegal to pay fees or commissions in connection with negotiating any government contract soon will be subject to a test in the courts. A group of manufacturers is arranging to bring suit to contest the attitude of the department of justice. Details will be announced soon by the department.

Despite the recent disclosures of enormous sums paid contingent fee agents and the indictment of four of these agents on charges of conspiring to defraud the government, the operations of commission agents are continuing in Washington and elsewhere. Additional arrests are said to be planned by officials.

Contractors today complained to the department that they should not be deprived of the services of agents operating under commission agreements. The government established the proposed bureau to aid manufacturers to get in touch with proper purchasing agencies of the government. For this reason, they explained, they had not discontinued the employment of agents. Plans for the establishment of a central bureau to furnish information on contracts will be discussed tomorrow at the cabinet meeting.

KILLED BY AUTO ON THE LAWRENCE BOULEVARD

John W. Walton of Lawrence was killed and Gregory Krislovitch was seriously injured in an auto accident on the Lawrence boulevard near Glen Forest, Saturday afternoon at about 4 o'clock.

The accident was in the nature of a collision between a jitney operated by Patrick Keegan of Lowell and an auto driven by Andrew O'Brien of Boston. Mr. Keegan received a cut over the left eye which required seven stitches and John Tukaski of Lawrence, Peter Kanellos of Salem, and John Graham of Lowell experienced a severe shaking up and received several bruises.

Keegan, with eight or nine passengers, was coming toward Lowell and upon reaching Glen Forest, saw a Pierce-Arrow limousine cutting across the road. Keegan stated that he kept to his side of the road, expecting the Boston man to do likewise, but the limousine kept coming toward him and finally struck the jitney in the rear, killing Walton almost instantly and injuring the others. Gregory Krislovitch who was seriously injured, was removed to a Lawrence hospital.

OVERTHROW BOLSHEVIKI

Grand Duke Michael Said to Have Issued Manifesto to Restore Order

LONDON, July 1.—Grand Duke Michael is reported to have issued a manifesto stating that he considered it his duty to restore order and regenerate the Russian people, says an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Moscow under date of June 25. He calls upon all people to overthrow the present government.

The grand duke's appeal for the ousting of the bolshevik government is based upon the dissolution of the constituent assembly which was called to decide upon Russia's form of government. This act resulted in the disintegration of Russia, the manifesto declared.

Amnesty for past offenses will be granted all who take part in the revolution, the grand duke promises.

The manifesto mentioned is probably identical with one reported in Amsterdam despatches of June 27 to have been issued about that time by Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch, a younger brother of the former emperor Nicholas. This manifesto, it was announced, had been addressed to the Russian people when the grand duke placed himself at the head of a new government in Siberia.

NERVES UNSTRUNG BY RUSH OF WORK

In these war times we all want to keep ourselves at the highest point of efficiency to be able to do our share in the many demands for service that are made on all. Unless you stop the mental fatigue and build up your nerves you will be fortunate if you escape nervous breakdown, some form of paralysis or other severe nervous disorder.

"The strain of a rush of work at the mill, due to war orders, was getting on my nerves," says Mr. Thomas Wagner of 67 Marshall street, Lowell, Mass., "and I had stomach trouble. My appetite was poor and I could not digest food. I was uneasy all the time. I was restless and rolled and tossed about in bed. When I got up I did not feel like working. A friend recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I gave them a trial. I soon noticed that they were helping me. I can eat better and have more ambition. My nerves are steadier and I rest well at night. I certainly can recommend these pills after what they have done for me."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a nerve tonic. They build up the nerves in the only possible way, by enriching the blood with elements the nerves need. The treatment is of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved useful in so many severe cases that every sufferer is justified in giving them a trial for any form of nervous debility. They contain no opiate or harmful drug.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Price, fifty cents per box; six boxes for $2.50. Write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for free book on nervous disorders.—Adv.

the Austro-Hungarian losses in the last Italian offensive, according to a Budapest despatch received here yesterday. The premier said that during the last few days existing rumors were being circulated regarding the losses. These rumors, he declared, were much exaggerated. The Austro-Hungarian armies were withdrawn on the Piave front in order to spare lives, he declared, since they must have sustained very great losses had they held that line.

"But how great are our losses?" interrupted Deputy Zilinsky.

"The number of prisoners taken was recently stated to be 15,000," the premier replied. "I must, however, correct that statement. The truth is that the Italians have taken 12,000, while 50,000 Italians fell into our hands. In the case of an offensive and a retreat this figure cannot be termed excessively high. Much sadder is the loss we suffered in dead, wounded and sick, mostly sick. In the 10th and 11th Italian offensives we lost 30,000 to 100,000 men. Now, however, our losses are similar, about 100,000 men."

"These figures include the fallen, the slightly wounded and those brought back as ineffective."

A great uproar interrupted the premier and there were cries of "They were all Hungarians!" When quiet was restored Premier Wekerle continued:

"I mention these figures in order to describe the situation with perfect sincerity. Also because our enemies will certainly portray these losses in an exaggerated fashion, and perhaps also influence our public opinion."

"There are also rumors circulating that on this occasion Hungarian troops were called upon in excessively large numbers and that the losses fell upon them only. Therefore, I must point out that 33 Hungarian and 37 Austrian regiments participated in the entire offensive and retreat, or 47 per cent Hungarian and 53 Austrian."

"In the entire advance and retreat the Italian losses amounted to 150,000, far surpassing our losses in dead, wounded and sick."

"A report is also being circulated that our losses were due to a lack of ammunition."

A deputy shouted:

"Lack of food," to which the premier replied that "our army never was so well provided with munitions as during the middle of June."

"It is true, the premier added, "that of three bridges, thrown across the Piave, the uppermost unfortunately collapsed and then both of the others were carried away with it. Thus, insurmountable difficulties arose in bringing up provisions during the sensational retreat which was followed according to the regular plan, and only a few troops who remained behind to cover the retreat fell into Italian hands. The entire retreat was carried out in such an orderly and unobserved manner that the Italians continued their attacks on our former positions."

"If, despite these regrettable events,

I draw deductions from the whole that it is not to be doubted that we inflicted important losses on the Italians and prevented them from sending a considerable part of their troops to the western front, which in the interest of the common conduct of the war is undoubtedly the objective which it was our duty to attain."

"This aim, too, we attained."

EVERGREEN PLANTATIONS SHOW EFFECTS OF THE HARD WINTER

Upon a recent inspection of forest plantations in Massachusetts by State Forester Rane, he reports that the effect of winter killing of the tips and branches of evergreens due to ice storms and the severe conditions of the past winter is generally very much in evidence. Upon first examination one would think the trouble due to the work of the pine weevil which has been prevalent during the past two seasons, but closer diagnosis indicates that a great amount of damage is caused by winter killing. Where the young pines are mixed in with spruce growth they are far less affected. The unsightly appearance of the trees with their red tops leads one to feel discouraged; the root system, however, is normal and it is believed that many young trees will continue to live but will take a year or two to regain their former appearance and vigor. Because of the exceptional growth of the last two seasons the effect of this setback is the more pronounced.

Evidently the severity of the winter can easily account for the great loss of the more tender trees and shrubs of which privet and arbor vitae hedges are examples, when its effect on our hardy evergreens is so pronounced.

More or less damage is found also from the girdling of trees by rodents due to continued deep snow. The greatest damage has been to the Scotch pine. This tree in the various plantations has been severely girdled and while the trees do not show the effects as yet, it is believed they are badly damaged.

Strange to say, the white pitch and red pines under similar conditions were comparatively untouched. The trees in plantations that withstood the climatic conditions best are the spruce, balsam and red pines. That the past winter was an exceptional one in its severity there can be no question, and it is hoped that we may not see its equal for years to come.

STRIKE IS CALLED

Western Union Telegraphers are Ordered to Quit Work July 8

Employees Claim the Company Tried to Destroy Their Union

CHICAGO, July 1.—S. J. Konstant, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, last night announced that he has issued a call for a strike of members of the union employed by the Western Union Telegraph company, effective at 7 a. m., eastern time, Monday, July 8.

The announcement in part follows: "The strike against the Western Union Telegraph company will be effective at 7 a. m., eastern time, and at the corresponding hour of 6 a. m., central time, Monday, July 8. Official announcement of the time has been sent to the Order of Railroad Telegraphers and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers for their information and guidance."

"The grievances to be adjusted are those set forth in President Wilson's letter to the Western Union Telegraph company, as follows:

"The reinstatement of more than 800 Western Union employees locked out contrary to the terms of his proclamation of April 8, 1918, and to enforce the decision of the national war labor board dated June 1, 1918."

"In this letter to the Western Union, President Wilson asked officials of that company to co-operate with him by accepting the labor board's decision. This the company declined to do. Similar letters addressed to the Postal Telegraph company and to your union brought forth an expression of their willingness to comply with his request."

"The strike against the Western Union alone is necessary because of that company's determination to destroy our organization. As Americans, we have no desire to be subjects of tyranny, and this strike will be justified to the boys at the front because of its purpose. It is the last resort to preserve our organization from annihilation."

Learning its Lesson

"Our poor country is only in the first class of the institute of political science. Yet I hope that our allies will not forsake us, and will aid us as they have done all these four years. As soon as we are healthy we can be of use too, for after this terrible experience, the poor peasantry will be ashamed of their foolishness, and more prudent in their actions and enterprises. I see how many people are more quiet, more reasonable and hopeful."

"Nobody will believe in the defeat of the commonwealth forever. On the contrary, after a lesson so cruel and so profound, we expect to see the whole world on a new way of life and prosperity. Only to get the Germans disarmed and pacified."

"It is possible that I am not destined to see realized all my hopes and anxieties, but nevertheless I shall leave the world with my faith in the progress of humanity, of the human soul, as strong as it was during all my life."

"If you all remain as hopeful for us, as you have been until lately, I will thank my destiny and fortify my soul with the idea that we are not left by our friends at the mercy of our enemies."

The following article relative to a demand for the disbarment of Attorney Daniel O'Connell, said to be Bernard D. O'Connell, is from the San Francisco Examiner, under date of Sunday, June 23:

SAYS RUSSIA CERTAIN TO BE REPUBLIC

BOSTON, July 1.—A letter from Catherine Freshkovsky, "the little grandmother of the Russian revolution," has just been received by Miss Alice Stone Blackwell of this city. It is the first personal word heard from her in months.

Miss Freshkovsky is now in hiding, for she is a pro-war socialist, and therefore opposed to the Bolsheviks. She gives no indication of her whereabouts but, writing under the date of May 18, says:

"Till this hour I feel imprisoned and deprived of the pleasure of breathing fresh air. Otherwise I would remain as strong and fresh as you know me. My freedom, like that of my best friends, lasted for half a year only. No doubt there are destinies that are the fate of some persons from their childhood to their death. I am so accustomed to such a situation that it would be difficult for me to believe in the reality of enjoying quietly the right to feel free forever."

DEBS ARRESTED

Former Socialist Candidate
for President was Taken
at Cleveland

Arraigned in Court Today
on Charge of Violating
Espionage Act

CLEVELAND, O., July 1.—(Engine V. Debs, four times socialist candidate for the presidency of the United States, was arrested here yesterday by United States Marshal Charles W. Lapp and Deputy Marshal Charles Boehme as he was about to deliver a socialist address. The arrest was made on a federal warrant in connection with Debs' speech at the socialist state convention in Canton, O., June 16 last. A secret indictment was returned Saturday by the federal grand jury.

It is understood the indictment contains 10 specific counts under Section 2 of the Espionage act, as amended by the passage of the Sedition bill on May 16 last, which provides a penalty of 20 years in the penitentiary and a fine of $10,000 and costs for each violation.

Will Be Arraigned Today

Mr. Debs will be arraigned in federal court today before Judge D. C. Westenhaver, when the matter of bail will be decided. He spent last night in the Cuyahoga county jail in the custody of Marshal Lapp.

Mr. Debs refused to make any statement regarding his arrest. Department of Justice, Federal Agent John F. Hawkin and members of the American Protective League have been working on the case since the delivery of the Canton speech.

Mr. Debs arrived in Cleveland yesterday to address a socialist gathering. He was taken into custody as he was about to enter the garden where the meeting was held. No commotion was caused, as few persons were aware of what was transpiring until after Mr. Debs was taken to the Federal building.

Following the announcement of Mr. Debs' arrest a defense fund of more than $1000 was raised by popular subscription before the meeting was ended.

Edwin S. Wertz, United States attorney for the Northern District of Ohio, and Assistant Attorney Joseph E. Freitenstein and F. C. DeKavanagh will handle the case for the government.

Counsel Makes Statement

Following the arrest, Mr. Wertz made the following statement: "No man is too big to be held responsible for his act under the Espionage act or any other law of the United States."

"Mr. Debs was indicted, not as a socialist, but as a violator of the law of the United States because of things he said in his Canton speech," said Asst. Atty. Eitenstein.

The federal jury has presented to it for consideration during the past two weeks many other cases under the Espionage act," said Asst. Atty. DeKavanagh. Among the persons charged are not only socialists, but many who are members of other political party affiliations. The government is not prosecuting these men because they are socialists.

THE TORPEDO DESTROYER

LUCE LAUNCHED

BOSTON, July 1.—Another of the latest type of torpedo destroyers was quietly launched at the Fore River plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding company at Quincy yesterday afternoon. It was named the Luce, in honor of the late Stephen Bleecker Luce, rear admiral in the United States navy and one of the most honored names in the navy's annals.

The launching, like all launchings in war time, was marked with little ceremony. Mrs. Charlotte Luce Noyes of Newport, R. I., daughter of the admiral, acted as sponsor. Mrs. Noyes was attended by her brother, John D. Henley Luce of 267 Clarendon street, and a small group of personal friends, who were received by General Manager Wakeman and Mrs. Wakeman. Mrs. Noyes was presented by Mr. Wakeman with American Beauty roses and a modest souvenir of the event.

The launching of a war vessel at the Fore River plant is now a matter of great frequency. One was launched a week ago, and another is scheduled to be launched Thursday, the Fourth. The officials at the plant have made no special effort to celebrate the Fourth, as General Manager Wakeman declares that every day is special effort day at Fore River and that the next launching should be on the Fourth is just a coincidence. Had the schedule, which is measured by working days, decreed July 3 instead, no sentimental delay would have been allowed.

The strict governmental rules allow no statement as to the number of vessels launched at Fore River or placed in commission; but it may be stated that feats undreamed of months ago have been accomplished in adding to the strength of the United States navy.

The Quincy plant and the Squantum plant of the company are hitting their stride, the number now employed running close to 20,000. The latest type destroyers are launched in less than one-third the time required a few months ago. When the Squantum plant begins launching some time this month it is anticipated that all world's records in launching and delivering destroyers will be shattered.

Rear Admiral Luce, for whom the new destroyer is named, rendered conspicuous service in the Civil war, and also founded the Naval War college, and was mainly instrumental in establishing the present naval training system. He died a year ago, in his 81st year.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A delightful birthday party was recently held at Mrs. Kelly's home, 182 Aven street, in honor of her daughter, Abbie, and Miss Henrietta Davis. It was an evening of delightful surprises. Mr. Chris Kelly presented Miss Abbie Kelly with a beautiful wrist watch and pendant, while he also presented Miss Davis with a beautiful bracelet. Both young ladies were overjoyed. The house was beautifully decorated with the national colors and flags. Wild flowers and peonies made a very lovely background. Refreshments were served by Miss Cora Davis and Mrs. McQuillan. The party came to an end with all present singing "The Star Spangled Banner" and "America, Forever."

PAVERS AND HAMMERS

At a regular meeting of the members of the Pavers and Hammer Men's union held Saturday evening at 32 Middle st., it was voted to send a delegate to the international convention to be held in New York during the week of July 8 and P. J. Garrity was the choice of the assembly. Routine business was also transacted.

THE MILL STRIKE

While we do not presume to pass upon the issues involved in the local mill strike inaugurated this morning, it does seem that some modus vivendi might have been reached by which it could have been avoided.

The times are unusual and a great mill strike under present economic conditions and with our country engaged in the greatest war of all history, becomes a most serious matter not only for the parties involved but for the city and even for the United States government, which needs the continued labor of every essential factory in the land and of every individual employed in all those factories.

The mill operatives demanded an increase of 15 per cent; the mill agents granted 10 per cent, whereupon the operatives or their representatives made a second demand for the additional 5 per cent., and in so doing they notified the agents that unless a notice were posted in the mills at noon, Saturday, announcing that the additional 5 per cent. would be granted, they would refuse to go to work this morning. The agents replied that they could not afford the extra 5 per cent. They had granted 95 per cent. in the past two years and decided they would have to refuse this final demand, with the result that this morning the strike was on and most of the mills either idle or badly crippled in their operations.

It is to be hoped that prompt steps will be taken to reach a settlement so that both sides may be saved from the loss of prolonged idleness. If there is no other way out, the strike can be settled as are railroad, spinning and most other strikes in these times of national stress, by giving the strikers what they want and charging it up to the consumers so as to push the cost of living one notch higher.

One objection which the mills would naturally offer even to that mode of settlement is, that they would lose heavily on contracts already made for manufactured products to be delivered in the future. That is undoubtedly true. Government intervention is talked of. It is difficult to see how the government can settle such disputes unless by giving the strikers what they want and making the people pay.

OUR VICTORIES OVER THERE

Already we are assured that about one million American soldiers are in France. Of these probably 750,000 are of the combatant class. Great interest will be felt as to the showing our troops will make on entering the struggle on a large scale on the western battlefield.

Already the United States troops have had a good many battles with the enemy and in each and every case they gave a splendid account of themselves. When Generals Foch and Joffre stopped the Hun at the Marne in 1914, the real significance of the victory was not realized. When it was found that this battle turned the Germans on their tracks and saved not only Paris but civilization as well, then it dawned upon the Allies that their victory was destined to become historic. But in 1918, the Hun again reached the Marne and were making progress southward until stopped by the American marines, who won a smashing victory at Chateau-Thierry.

But not alone at this point, but in reality in every battle in which our troops have met the enemy, they have shown a spirit of courage and dash and a degree of skill and initiative that have inspired the worn heroes of France and the stubborn Tommies of England.

At Cantigny and Veuilly, Jaulgonne, Belleau Wood, Bourches and Selcheprey they acquitted themselves with the freshness and vigor of new men but showed a degree of courage and skill worthy of the highly trained troops of France.

From these beginnings we may expect great achievements from our army in France. Already a large section of the war front, perhaps about fifty miles, is held by United States troops, while a certain portion of our army has been brigaded with the French and English armies.

These will be released to join their own divisions and then the full force of the American army will be made available in holding a more extended section of the front. Before November the United States will have nearly 1,600,000 men in France and Italy. That will give the Allies a clear superiority of numbers on the western front and this will remove all possibility of Germany winning the war by a decisive blow. Then will start the work of driving back the Teutons and carrying the war into German territory. The Kaiser will fight desperately for a while, after the tide of victory turns against him, and then his deluded people who have believed his statement that God has been on his side will conclude that God has gone over to the side of the Allies and that Satan alone could be sponsor for the German war lords and Prussian Junkers. Already a detachment of American troops has landed in Italy ready to assist in driving home the recent victory over the Austrians and to help in the movement to enter Austria for the purpose of starting towards Vienna and Berlin. The Kaiser will now have an opportunity to revise his opinion of the Americans as a military force.

The brilliant action of our troops in France together with the action of congress in voting vast amounts for defense shows the determination of the government to win the war at all costs. It may be necessary to put an army of three or four million men in the field, but the great program soon to be evolved by Secretary Baker will probably be such as will fully convince the Teutons that their hope of victory is forever doomed.

FEDERAL LABOR CONTROL

After August 1, no employer with war business who has a force of more than 100 workers will be permitted to recruit common labor and all such employers will be required to use the federal employment service. In time it is proposed to extend the federal agency's employment field to include skilled labor. It will from the beginning regulate and control employment in non-war work by governmental control over raw materials, fuel and transportation.

The new labor-supply program will be conducted in accordance with the following four cardinal principles:

1. War work must have men at any cost.
2. Withdrawals of workers from non-essential industries for war industries will be equalized.
3. The volunteer principle will be followed in dealing with the individual worker.
4. Only fit men will be sent to war industries.

This means that the labor resources of the country are going to back up the fighting resources in the most efficient and capable manner. It means the end of wholesale labor "stealing" and "poaching" that has been largely responsible for the disorganization of the labor supply. No longer will private labor agencies reap a profit by tempting workers in one part of the country to leave their jobs and go to another section, often far distant, under promises of higher wages that too often prove delusive.

Inadequacy as the immediate supply of unskilled labor is, from 25 to 40 per cent of it has been rendered idle because it has been rushed from place to place by the recruiting agents.

Farmers will be one of the essential producers to benefit. In many sections, notably in the south and east, farms have been swept bare of labor by private recruiting agents. This practice will be ended and this year agents will be prevented from going on farms and taking away harvest labor at the time it is most needed.

There will be no conscription of labor, nothing compulsory upon the worker's side other than as the "work or fight" order affects those of draft age, and there will be no attempt made to prevent any worker from changing his job or applying for another one if he wants to. The restraint will be all on side of the labor-recruiting employer. For instance, it will be impossible for a street car company which boycotts its own employees because they wear union buttons to go out into the rural districts and coax farm hands out of the food fields.

Another thing, if the workers receive labor appeals from the United States employment service they will know that there is dire need. Writing about the employment service, President Wilson says: "It must also protect labor from insincere and thoughtless appeals made to it under the plea of patriotism, and assure it that when it is asked to volunteer in some priority industry, the need is real."

This is nothing more or less than getting our war labor problems down to a real win-the-war efficiency basis, placing war work above all others, where it rightly belongs and where it must stay until the day of final and complete victory.

RUSSIAN GENERAL COMING

We are to be told by Kerensky himself his side of the Russian story. He is coming to the United States for that purpose. He is going to tell America what America can and should do to help Russia out of the clutches of the German conqueror and get back into the great world fight for world-wide democracy.

Kerensky is the leader of the Russian faction or party which stands in the midway ground between the Russian bureaucracy and the Russian Bolsheviks. His last words before dropping out of sight were a message to the Allies telling them that Russia was war weary and could no longer fight on the eastern front. Now he is quoted as saying that Russia will again spring to arms against the Huns if given assistance by America, France and Great Britain. He prefers "assistance" rather than "intervention."

We will be interested in what he has to say about Japan and her offer to help keep German hands off Siberia and to protect allied interests there; to hear what his party hopes to do for the people of Russia; what his party will do to establish democracy on a firm basis in Russia.

We will be interested also in hearing him tell how he proposes to put Russia back into the ranks of the nations fighting for the same high and glorious cause.

At the present moment the United States is standing on the fence, so to speak, prepared to jump to the side which promises justice and liberty to the Russian people and help for the nations who are fighting for justice and liberty for all people.

Cherism in Russia is dead. Bolshevik policies cannot last. Something must be done in Russia and for Russia. It may be that we shall know what to do and how to do it after Kerensky comes here.

SEEN AND HEARD

Right makes might, but it is one of those rules that don't work both ways.

A Hale Fellow

Talk about your Hale fellows, the state of Maine has them to gloat over. Take Eugene Hale of Maine, for instance. He is the grandson of a United States senator, the son of a United States senator, and the brother of a United States senator. Incidentally, he is a millionaire in his own right and 41 years of age, yet he induced the war board to waive his exemption and enlisted as a private in the army. He might have had a commission, but insisted on starting in the ranks. It is little incidents like this that encourage the thought that the world is being made safe for democracy.—Los Angeles Times.

A Camouflager

A story is told by the dean of Carlisle. It concerns a clergyman who, taking occasional duty for a friend in one of the moorland churches in a remote corner of Cumberland, was one day greatly scandalized on observing the old verger, who had been collecting the offertory, quietly abstract a half-crown before presenting the plate at the altar rail.

It Quite Unnerved Her

The other Monday afternoon a woman rushed excitedly down an alley in a poor quarter of Manchester and, stopping at a house, knocked loudly.

Receiving no reply she knocked a second time. Still no answer, and then a third time she knocked, and then a window above was hastily flung open and a woman whose appearance betrayed signs of a sudden awakening leaned out.

"Well, what is it?" she asked. The woman below looked up and exclaimed, with bated breath: "Mrs. Skinner, yer 'usband's got 10 days in jail."

"Dear, dear me, Mrs. Jones," was the reply, "is that all? 'Ow did you did nerve me! Ah thought it was that scarecrow after the rent agin."—Tit-Bits.

How He Co-operated

Cornelius Vanderbilt tells this one: "At the Grand Central station one young man was seeing another off, when three very pretty girls got in the Pullman."

"The departing young man was smitten by the three girls' charms and he muttered to his friend: "Look here, to oblige me, you know, won't you put your head in at the door just as the train pulls out, and shout in a loud voice, 'When I close the door, I'll give you a kiss, and store the silver on the yacht.'"

"The other chap agreed to do this, and the one smitten with the girls sat and waited for the thing to come to pass, his eyes fixed on their pretty faces.

"Finally the whistle blew. The obliging chap hastily hopped up on the back platform, stuck his head in at the door, and yelled: "Hey, you, tell your boss if that suit of mine ain't home Saturday night I won't have it at all."—Detroit Free Press.

In Luck at Last

Asst. Sec. Byron Newton of the treasury, once a newspaperman, has heard a good deal about two and two making four, high cost of living, and living as cheaply as one, and the like. But he believes that while much can be done to adjust incomes to expenses, that not a few individuals on this earth are a little remiss in their domestic exchequers. Hence he refers to the case of Brownleigh. He was a man about town, who had to work for a living, but never worked long. He was always short.

Yellow Fever

A mosquito appropriately striped with black is responsible for the Mrs. H. W. Roberts of 502 Asylum St., Flint, Mich., writes: "Have used your Elixir, and as far as I know my little girl is cured of worms." Later she wrote: "Baby is fine and I think it was your medicine that helped her." Get Dr. True's Elixir. At all dealers; 40c-60c-$1.00; for further information write to Dr. J. F. True & Co., Auburn, Me.

spread of yellow fever. This insect, known as the Aedes calopus, conveys the infection from one person to another.

The disease develops suddenly. It frequently comes on at night or in the early morning. The patient is taken with chill, followed by a headache, pain in the back and fever. The pulse is rapid at first, but afterward falls, even though the temperature remains high. The skin has a slight flush and the upper lip is often swollen.

The diet in yellow fever is very important. For the first day or two very little, if any, food should be given. A little milk diluted with vichy water may be allowed every three hours.

Later a little broth and very gradually, when the fever is reduced, thin light and easily digested articles may be allowed in small quantities at regular intervals.

If the fever is high and the patient restless 10 grains of aspirin may afford relief, and if necessary, a second dose may be given after an interval of three hours.

Vichy or other alkaline mineral water should be given in small quantities frequently repeated. It is often difficult to tell yellow fever from malarial fever. The yellow fever chill usually occurs in the night or early morning while the chill of malarial fever may take place at any time during the day.

A Girl Like You

It's the faith of a little girl like you That counts when the world goes wrong. When a fellow's down and mighty blue And his lips can voice no song. When the loneliness seems hard to bear And the scheme of life proves tame, It's knowing somehow, that still you care That makes a fellow game.

When he wants to quit in the first long mile, Turn back in the grilling race, When the goal beyond don't seem worth while And he balks at the speedy pace, It's the faith of a girl like you. Makes him reckon the coward's cost. And he plays to win as a man should. The game he might have lost.

It's girls like you that keep men true, Keep them white clear through and clean. It's girls like you that make men great. And not what they might have been. Oh! it's good for the man when all seems night, When the clouds hide the goal from view, Just to knuckle down and fight, yes fight, For the sake of a girl like you. FREDRY W. REYNOLDS in Springfield Union.

Human Nature Gambler

To the average person who rushes from his apartment to the subway station each morning the man who stops him to whisper something about "hi-cash" and "ot close" is but a lowly dealer in cast-off garments. But in reality he is a gambler, who counts his profits not in the difference between the cost and selling price of the garments handled, but his daily find of cash, jewels or valuable papers that are in one of every 12 suits that pass through his hands.

One dealer in second-hand clothes, who covers a territory he has mapped out for himself in the Washington Heights district, estimates that $5000 a year is a conservative estimate on the money left in discarded clothing of the average New Yorker. His findings last year, according to his own estimates, totaled $6800.

"Of course, I try to restore any jewel that I find in the pocket of a suit I buy," he said. "If I know where the suit comes from I take it back immediately and usually am given a reward."

"But in buying old clothes you must remember that we get many suits in the course of a day; we meet many people and we don't have time to do much examining of pockets if we are going to get over the district we must cover."

"The result is that if I get in at night with half a dozen suits I nearly always find something stuck in some hidden pocket in one of the coats. Sometimes it is a five-dollar bill that the owner tried to hide from his wife and succeeded in hiding from himself. Sometimes it is a piece of small change."

Coal Bulletin, No. 14

We heard of a man the other day, a pretty good man, too, who is reported to have said that he had not read any of our ads. Now we pay good money for this space and we want our ads. read and if you find anyone who is not reading them just notify us and we will send him a marked copy or a bill for the ad.

STEAM COAL. We believe Lowell is short on soft coal and is going to be shorter, so we are preparing for it and expect about 3000 tons from the Georges Creek region. Our coal is a good standard coal and much better than a lot we have recently seen. We haven't any New River Coal, but we have a good grade that should satisfy you and can supply practically any amount, and if you need any you had better see us at once. It will look pretty good to you next winter.

—too small to warrant a return trip to the owner. But occasionally it is something of value, such as diamond rings.

"Once I found an engagement ring valued at $450. I returned it and received $50 as a reward. On another occasion I found an old jewel that looked as if it were worth about 15 cents. I returned it because it was so old, however, and found it was worth more to its owner than if it had been made of diamonds. He gave me $50 as a reward."

"In my experience I have found that one suit in 12 has something of value in it. That really is the profit of the business, since the margin of profit in handling old clothes is not enough to make it worth our time unless there were other means of making an income out of it to be found."

A RIOT OF PROFITEERING

In indorsing the pretext for prohibiting the use of hot water four days a week in 14,000 apartment-houses in the Bronx, Deputy Fuel Administrator Nathan seems to lend himself to a scheme of more than doubtful expediency.

The ostensible purpose is to save coal in anticipation of next winter's needs. But of the rights of the many thousands of tenants and of the money to be pocketed under the arrangement by the persons to whom they pay rent nothing is said. The sacrifice imposed on the apartment-dwellers works directly to the profit of the landlords, which may help to explain their ready acquiescence in the plan. Their alarm in midsummer over the prospects of a fuel famine six months later has been ingeniously advertised.

In one form and another the abuses of war profiteering are weighing heavily on consumers throughout the country. Excessive retail prices for many food articles and other necessities are too often excused by dealers on the ground of a fictitious shortage. In many cases markets and stores which find no difficulty in replenishing their stocks have been tempted to raise their prices beyond all reason. The public is always expected to pay in a spirit of patriotism whatever prices may be demanded.

It is becoming a situation where unrestrained greed levies oppressive toll upon the family pocketbook, and al-

DRACUT NEWS

The Navy Yard section of Dracut was ably represented in the graduating class of the Lowell high school this year. Frederick Stevens, son of the Hon. George H. Stevens, was one of the most popular members of the class. He was prominent in many school activities and was captain of Co. H, which has won several prizes. Miss F. H. Boyle of Parker avenue, and Miss Lena Storey of Dinley street, were also among the graduates.

Miss Margaret Kiernan of Collinsville, has resigned as principal of the Parker Avenue school to accept a government position in Washington. The employees of the Merrimack Woolen Co. were agreeably surprised upon finding a 10 per cent. increase in their pay envelopes last Friday. The wages now being paid are the highest in the history of the company. The old sign board at the corner of Pleasant street and Lakeview avenue has been torn down and a new one is being constructed.

Evidences of war activities are everywhere seen about the town. War gardens are everywhere springing up and more than one household is harkening to the plea to help relieve the food situation by "raising a little pig." One can hardly find a single house which is not displaying the familiar little blue-bordered pennant which denotes that the occupants have promised to buy war savings stamps. Dracut is certainly doing its bit toward winning this war.

Eliot Congregational
The young people of the Eliot Congregational church are looking forward to their camping season which is to be held this month at Windham, N. H. On July 6 and 7, the young ladies of the church who are employed will attend the camp. On the 8th, the Girl Scouts will pitch tents for 10 days, and later, the Boy Scouts of the church will encamp. The annual church picnic was held Saturday at Windham, with 170 present.

First Congregational
The usual services were held at the First Congregational church yesterday. At the morning service, Rev. Clarence A. Vincent, D.D., delivered a powerful sermon. Especially good music was a feature of both services.

Highland Congregational
"The Larger Spirit—1776 and 1918" was the topic of Rev. A. S. Beale's sermon at the Highland Congregational church yesterday morning. The topic was a most timely one and very effectively handled. The usual other services were held.

Kirk Street Congregational
Rev. William F. English, Jr., spoke on "Our National Integrity" at the morning service at the Kirk Street Congregational church yesterday. The topic was dealt with in a patriotic vein and served as part of the celebration of National Independence Sunday. There were special patriotic musical numbers by the choir. During the months of July and August, the Kirk Street, First, Eliot and Highland Congregational churches will hold union services.

Pawtucket Congregational
Dr. George E. Pickard spoke yesterday morning at the Pawtucket Congregational church on "The Times." He showed how the men of the country are measuring up to the needs of the times in four salient directions. He said that men were measuring up to the standard of length by the sacrifices which they were making, to that of breadth by their ready sympathy and their response to the appeals of various organizations, to that of depth because of their activities and Christ as a basis, and to that of height because of their upward tendencies. Last evening's service was the last to be held until the fall. The usual morning services will continue, however.

St. John's Episcopal
Graduation exercises of members of the church school connected with St. John's Episcopal church were the salient features of yesterday morning's services. More than 30 young people received honors for attendance. Hilda Riley and Milton McGrath have the unique record of perfect attendance for eight years. Others have attained such perfection for five, six and seven years. Those who were graduated were the following: William Greenwood, George Whalley, William Griffin, Oscar N. Olsen, Carl O. Brown, Mary P. Cummings, Hazel L. Gordon, Eleanor G. Lybrand, Alice M. Walker, Ida M. Waterworth, Anna Way and Dorothy Whitley. The regular men and boys' choir starts on its vacation this week and during the summer months music will be furnished by a volunteer girls' choir. P. Raymond Plummer was awarded a watch for reverence in service, regularity in attendance and proficiency in music at the services yesterday morning. He is a member of the choir and this award is made annually.

Jewish Synagogue
The usual services were held at the various synagogues of the city Saturday. Exercises are held three times on this day—from 8 to 10:30 in the morning, 5 to 6 in the afternoon and after sunset in the evening. Worshipers at the synagogues are contributing continually to various forms of war relief and collections for this purpose are taken up weekly.

All Souls
All Souls church held services yesterday at the First Unitarian church and Rev. Alfred Rodman Hussey spoke. For the first two Sundays in July services will be held at the High Street church. Mr. Hussey left on his vacation today which will extend to September but he will come to Lowell on next Sunday and the Sunday following to preach at the High Street church.

St. Anne's Episcopal
Rev. Appleton Grannis preached at the morning services yesterday. Evening services have been discontinued until the third Sunday in September. Rev. Mr. Grannis intends to keep in touch with the church throughout the summer months.

St. Paul's Methodist
The usual services were held at St. Paul's Methodist church yesterday with good-sized congregations present at both the morning and evening exercises.

Paige Street Baptist
Rev. Earle T. Pavro delivered an inspiring sermon at the Paige Street Baptist church last evening before an interested congregation. The usual morning services and bible school session at noon were held.

First Presbyterian
Rev. J. E. Kennedy of the First Presbyterian church has been called for three months' service for war camp service. He expects to spend much of his time in a camp in northern New York and later may be assigned to Plattsburg. At the morning service yesterday Rev. Mr. Kennedy preached on the topic: "Progressive Prayers," and in the evening "Prayer." These were a climax to the first part of a series he is preaching on the bible and prayer. At the close of the service the sacrament of the Lord's supper was celebrated, the pastor being assisted by the pastor-emeritus, Rev. J. M. Craig. It was announced that E. J. Lowrey had been secured to take up Boy Scout work

HUNS TRY TO MAKE FRIENDS WITH YANKS

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Except for increased artillery activity on both sides in the Chateau-Thierry region, General Pershing's communique today said there was nothing to report for yesterday from the American fronts.

Descriptive information of activity in the different sectors occupied by the American forces was given in the second section of General Pershing's communique. It says:

"In the Chateau-Thierry region, June 27 to 28, there was no special activity other than that of the hostile air forces and of the artillery on both sides. Shrapnel and gas were used in moderate quantities. A large part of the hostile fire was concentrated on our lines in the general direction of Bourresches and Triangle farm. The activity of the German air forces was marked only by the frequency of the reconnaissance flights made.

"In patrolling activities, carried on in the usual fashion by both sides, there occurred an encounter between a hostile patrol of about 20 men and one of our ambush patrols. After a hot skirmish near the Laroche woods, the hostile party, having suffered losses, withdrew to his own lines.

"South of the Marne, between the evening of June 27 and the evening of June 28, it was noticeable that the activity of the enemy was increased, while a certain nervousness on his part was also observed. Very energetic efforts are being made by the Germans to prevent further crossings of the river on the part of our troops.

"In contrast to the activity which has recently prevailed in the sectors occupied by our troops in Picardy, the day extending from noon June 26 to noon June 27, was uneventful.

"In the Mignonne sector our troops experienced on June 27 a very quiet day. The only unusual event was the falling within our lines of a number of small propaganda balloons despatched by the enemy.

"Our troops operating in the vicinity of Colmer, (the days of June 26 and 27 were marked by the attempts of the enemy to raid our lines.

"On the night of June 25 to 26 a large German patrol made a determined attack which was repulsed after two hours of brisk fighting. The condition of the ground, as it appeared on the morning of June 26, gave clear evidence that the Germans had sustained casualties.

"It is reported that the Germans at one point have been attempting to make friends with our men. On the morning of June 26 they made signs signifying 'Good morning.' They had deposited some kittens on the parapets of the small posts and threw a package of cigarettes into one of our barbed wire entanglements. Our soldiers do not reciprocate these attentions.

"Raiding activity has not been above normal on either side. The fire of the German artillery has been light and has not included any marked concentration.

"Behind the German lines the most interesting feature was again the appearance of considerable groups of men and women engaged in agricultural work in the fields. These groups are at present largely engaged in making hay. The proportion of women is apparently large."

Mrs. James H. Carmichael will report a total of between 20,000 and 21,000 war savings stamps pledged from this city at a meeting of the campaign committee chairman to be held in Cambridge tomorrow afternoon when reports from all over Massachusetts will be made.

Lowell's figure is based on an appropriate idea of the result of the month's campaign. Today was spent in tallying up the reports which were in and following up those which had not yet come in. For this reason only tentative figures as to the final result could be given out.

The city's quota was 20,000 pledges, but it is realized now that this was too large considering the population here. The campaign was a success in practically every respect and the workers are well satisfied with results.

They feel that even though the total amount of pledges was not reached, nevertheless, a great number of stamps was sold and this will have an accumulative effect for months to come. One phase of the success of the campaign is the report of stamps sold in Lowell alone for the month of June given out this afternoon by Postmaster John F. Meehan. In the month just closed a total of approximately $50,000 worth of Thrift and War Savings Stamps was disposed of. It should be understood that although the campaign for pledges closed Saturday night, people are still privileged to invest in stamps throughout the year.

APPLETON STREET

The condition of Appleton street between the rails of the Bay State Street railway is in bad condition and inasmuch as that part of the work is to be performed by the railway company, City Solicitor Regan has sent a letter to the receiver, Mr. Donham, calling his attention to the condition of the street.

SUMMER SCHOOL
—JULY 8—

NEW YORK, July 1.—Today's stock market soon developed a heavy trend due to recessions of 1 to 1-1/2 points in leaders and speculative issues. United States Steel, Crucible Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, General Motors and Mexican Petroleum were under special pressure. Gains of 1 to 1-1/2 points in Beet Sugar, Brooklyn Transit and National Lead served as a partial offset. Liberty bonds were steady.

Prices steadied for a time, but reacted again after the first hour. The weakness of United States Steel which extended its loss to two points affected all other active industrials, equipments and the war division as a whole. Copper offered some resistance but finally succumbed with tin, oil, shippings, leather and tobacco, those issues recording recessions of 1 to 4 points. Aside from a 1 point loss in Reading, rails were sold and little changed. Liberty 3-2's sold at 99.52 to 99.53, first 4's at 94.20 to 94.27, second 4's at 94.20 to 94.26, and 4-1/2's at 96.20 to 96.27.

United States Steel, Reading, shippings and other leaders continued to lose ground during the stagnant noon hour, and Western Union fell 1-1/2 points. Specialists, like Distillers and sugars, gained 1-1/2 to 2 points.

Steel and tobacco were foremost in the further decline of the later dealing. The closing was heavy. Liberty 3-2's sold at 99.52 to 99.53, first 4's at 94.08 to 94.26, second 4's at 94.08 to 94.26 and 4-1/2's at 96.20 to 96.27.

These photographs are the first to arrive in America showing the great care being given American wounded in France. They show the various steps taken. First, American Red Cross nurses on the way to the front. Second, unloading a wounded soldier from a Red Cross ambulance at the base hospital. Third, a hospital train transporting wounded from base hospitals to the main hospital farther back of the lines. Fourth, at the main hospital, wounded soldiers in their beds enjoying the baby French air and sunshine.

UNDERMINING MORALE OF GERMAN PEOPLE

AMSTERDAM, July 1.—In a despondent article on the present food situation in Germany, the socialist newspaper Vorwarts of Berlin, frankly points out that the general shortage is undermining the morale of the people. Among them, it declares, the question of "an early end to the tragic world war has again become of urgent importance."

The German Imperial clothing department issued an ordinance today under which clothing can no longer be obtained unless the application is accompanied by a properly certified statement giving in detail a list of the clothes already in the applicant's possession.

It is provided that henceforth coats shall be quilted in the back and lined only half way down in front. The number of pockets is limited to four, while vests and trousers may not have more than three pockets.

Kelleher-Bowers

Miss Bertha Bowers and Mr. John Kelleher, a well known business man of this city, were married at St. Peter's rectory yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Heffernan. The bride was attired in taupe Georgette over white satin and a white picture hat. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Dorothy Bowers, cousin of the bride, wore blue Georgette over blue tulle and a white picture hat. She carried pink roses. The best man was Mr. Thomas Kelleher, brother of the groom. After the ceremony the bridal couple repaired to the home of the bride where supper was served. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Kelleher left for New York and other points of interest.

OSTEOPATHS THREATENED VETO BY WILSON

WITH BOYCOTT

BOSTON, July 1.—The charge that the medical profession, through Surgeon-General William C. Gorgas, virtually had threatened the government with a war service boycott, if osteopaths were admitted to the medical corps, was made by Dr. George W. Riley, of New York, president of the American Osteopathic association, at the annual convention of the association today.

"We have the bitter and unrelenting opposition of organized medicine," Dr. Riley declared. "The American Medical association and the various state medical societies will exert every ounce of political influence they can muster against us. The surgeon general's office is made up entirely of doctors of medicine and has already sent an unfavorable report to the military affairs committee."

Dr. Riley based his charge on his interpretation of the adverse report by General Gorgas to the house military affairs committee on the bill to admit osteopaths without the degree of medicine to the medical corps. He quoted General Gorgas as having said in his report:

"The admission of osteopathic physicians as such and without the degree doctor of medicine, to the medical corps would have practically unanimous opposition of the medical profession of this country and of all allied countries, would be regarded and justly so, as lowering the standards, educational and professional of our medical corps and would have a discouraging and detrimental effect upon efforts to secure physicians for the corps, both now and in the future, and upon the general morale of the corps."

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

STRIKE THREATENED AT CARTRIDGE PLANT

The members of Lodges 138 and 733, Machinists' union, and those of Lodge 746, Fixers' union, employed at the local plant of the United States Cartridge Co., will go on strike if they receive the official sanction from the international body, for they have refused to accept the offer of a 20 per cent increase in wages made by the officials of the company.

A few days ago notices were posted in the plants of the company to the effect that a 20 per cent increase in wages, which would date back to May 8, would go into effect July 1. The matter was discussed at meetings of the above mentioned labor organizations held yesterday, and the offer was rejected. The machinists and fixers want a straight increase of 15 cents an hour, or 37 per cent, and it was voted to strike providing the action is sanctioned by the international board. It may be a day or two before word is received from international headquarters.

AUTOMATIC PISTOLS FOR OUR SOLDIERS

Special to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1.—To meet changed conditions of European warfare and the growing needs of the great army, the war department has revised its requirements as to the use of pistols and hereafter expects to equip 80 per cent of the troops with such small arms instead of only 20 per cent, as was formerly the rule. This will be done as soon as arms and munition plants can provide the supply. It has been found that when men go over the top, the automatic pistol is invaluable in the hand to hand fighting that follows. Formerly, only officers, cavalry and a few gunners were equipped with pistols. Now they will be provided for officers, gunners, cavalry, grenadiers and many others. The Colt automatic pistol is to be used as far as possible and not only have the Colts greatly enlarged their plant, but the Winchester company is tooling up for production and in the meantime the war department is supplying not only Colt automatic pistols, but the two types of Colt military revolvers as well as Smith & Wesson and other makes to fill immediate needs. RICHARDS.

OPENING OF LOCAL PLAYGROUNDS WILL TAKE PLACE NEXT MONDAY

The playground committee will meet with the park board tomorrow evening, in the aldermanic chamber at city hall, at 7:45 o'clock, for the purpose of receiving instructions for the opening of the playgrounds, which will take place next Monday.

The board has decided to conduct amusements on the following playgrounds this summer: North and South commons, Chambers street, Lincoln school and Page street. The latter will be under the direction of the Middlesex Women's club. The Elliot school baths will also be thrown open to the children next Monday. The playground committee consists of Robert F. Marden, chairman, Harvey B. Greene and Clarence M. Weed.

The sale of lots for the South common midway on July 4 is still on, and already about 82 lots have been disposed of. "The Bistany Bros." show people have rented a few lots on the common for the purpose of conducting tent shows.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR BIG PARADE ON JULY 4

More than 25 organizations have already responded to the invitation to appear in Lowell's big allied parade to be held Fourth of July evening, according to Chief Marshal Walter R. Jeyes. Already the affair has assumed a very cosmopolitan character and with the advent of additional organizations into the line of march, the celebration should be one of the most inspiring war-time observances that Lowell has ever staged.

A tentative route of march has been laid out by Maj. Jeyes and runs something like this: Parade will form in Westford street, near the state armory, and will proceed down Westford to Chelmsford street, to Thorneike, Middlesex, Central, Merrimack, Bridge, Sixth, Read, and counter-march through Seventh, Bridge, Merrimack to Worthen street. It will be reviewed by Major Thompson between Worthen and Dutton streets and will then proceed to Cardinal O'Connell parkway, where various organizations will be given orders to disband as quickly and with as little confusion as possible. It is felt that this line of march will give a great number of people opportunity to witness the procession without the inevitable confusion that attends a parade which traverses only the downtown streets. The matter of choosing a suitable place at which to disband the marchers has caused some difficulty as it was felt that the confusion of a large holiday crowd on the streets and commons would interfere to some extent. At first the North common was considered, but this would be out of the way for many of the marchers. Finally, the new parkway was thought of and this is right in the centre of the city and should be convenient for all those participating. Also, it is comparatively secluded and will give the marchers plenty of room in which to disband.

The parade will start at 6 p. m., not 5 as has been stated. As yet, Major Jeyes has not been successful in securing a military band from Camp Devens owing to the present uncertain conditions existing "up there." There is still a chance, however, and every effort will be made between now and Thursday to get one of the soldier outfits. Local bands will provide plenty of first rate music, even though the soldiers are not obtainable. Following the parade the bands will go to three different parks or commons to give concerts. A definite schedule of this phase of the celebration has not yet been arranged.

The sponsors of the parade received a great deal of encouragement yesterday afternoon when it was learned that the local lodge of Elks had decided to participate. The Elks had made a most excellent showing in the recent Flag day parade and many other organizations were holding off from taking part in Thursday's observance until they learned what action the Elks had taken.

The Elks held a well attended meeting yesterday afternoon at their home in Middle street and it was voted by all members present to turn out. The news that the Elks would participate was heralded with joy because all day Sunday the organization was besieged with inquiries as to whether they would parade.

In view of the numerous patriotic activities of the Elks, it seemed only fitting that they should take part in Thursday's parade. The following officers were chosen for the Elks' division in the parade: C. Frederick Gilmore, exalted ruler; William E. Mahan, E.L.K.; Samuel Scott, E.L.K.; John J. Lee, P.E.R.; Secretary: Thomas A. Golden, treasurer; Edwin Kilpatrick, Tyler; James B. Donnelly, esquire and marshal; George A. Tyrell, I.G.; William Donovan, chaplain; James H. Walker, John Burns and Edward Saunders, trustees.

A military band has been secured by the lodge and open house will be held all day Thursday. A dinner will be held after the parade.

The Elks will not wear special dress, but if any of the members desire to wear their Palm Beach suits they may do so.

EXPLAIN DELIVERY OF AIRPLANES TO CHILE

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Great Britain has explained to Peru, in a statement issued by the British minister at Lima, that the recent delivery to Chile of a number of airplanes was in accord with American principles proclaimed by President Wilson, and that the British government had not believed the act would be misinterpreted.

FAREWELL PARTY

Mr. N. Sclard, who is shortly to go to Camp Devens, was given a farewell party at his home Tuesday evening by a large gathering of friends and relatives. The young man was presented a soldier's kit in behalf of those present. A musical program was carried out by Mr. Jackson and company from Boston. Mr. P. Sclard sang very splendidly and Mr. Cook of Dracut gave an interesting speech which was enjoyed by all present. Refreshments were served.

DEVELOPING THE PARCEL POST SERVICE

A big stride in the development of the parcel post service as affecting Lowell was taken today when a new route was inaugurated between Worcester and Amesbury by way of this city.

A large parcel post automobile, one of the largest in the service, left Worcester at 6:30 this morning and came through Littleton, Ayer and the adjoining towns, arriving in Lowell at 10:30. It then proceeded through Lawrence and Methuen to Amesbury. This afternoon the truck left Amesbury at 12:30 and arrived in Lowell about 3:30. It then continued on its way to Worcester.

This schedule will hold good six days a week and is expected to prove a big boon to parcel post patrons of this and other cities and towns affected by the new system.

The object is not only to take some of the burden of delivery from the railroads, but also to facilitate general parcel delivery.

During the present summer season a special effort will be made to reach people who have farm and garden produce which they wished carried from one point to another and the system inaugurated today will provide an excellent avenue for their products.

It should be remembered that parcels as heavy as 70 pounds may be shipped by parcel post and with the expedition of delivery which will result from the new system in this vicinity, there is every opportunity for the farmer and gardener hereabouts to transact business with distant parties with great efficiency and speed.

MILITARY DANCE AT THE KASINO

Everything is in readiness for the big military dance to be held at the Kasino tomorrow evening by the 301st Mobile Ordnance Repair Shop Company stationed at Camp Devens. This unit expects to "go over" within a very short time and for that reason tomorrow evening's celebration will be of more than ordinary significance. The soldiers wish to provide funds for various luxuries that the government does not take care of and it is appealing to Lowell people to help them in this enterprise. Admission is 35 cents and tickets are on sale down town.

COTTON MILL STRIKE

mill agents will not attempt in any way to shut down this morning, to fill the positions of the strikers, while on the other hand it is very probable that no picketing will be done by the strikers, although no definite action on this matter has as yet been taken. The mills affected by the strike are the Massachusetts, Scott, Merrimack, Tremont & Suffolk, Appleton and Hamilton and the Bay State Corporation in Marginal street.

John Golden, president of the United Textile Workers of America stated this morning that in the case of the Bay State corporation there was no strike, for he alleges that the loomfixers were discharged Saturday noon at which time they were paid off, and this morning the mill was shut down tight. It is also claimed that the stationary firemen employed at the Appleton Co. left their work this morning.

Golden Issues Statement

The executive committee of the Lowell Textile council met with President Golden this forenoon and at the close of the session Mr. Golden issued the following statement:

"The report shows that all the mills are practically cleaned out of help and that the firemen also left their work. The contention of some of the mill men that the help was entirely satisfied with the 10 per cent increase granted and that the strikers are not represented in the majority is not true.

"Comparing the present strike with the strike of 1913 we are much better organized now than we were at that time. The skilled help is 100 per cent organized and the mills cannot run without them. In skilled help we mean loomfixers, weavers, grinders, fixers, beamers, slasher tenders and others. The spinners are also organized, but they are not in our branch of organized labor.

"So far we are well satisfied with the result of the strike and we feel that we will win out. In Providence, R. I., where the same difficulties existed, two or three of the large corporations have already granted the 10 per cent demanded, while the others are holding out, but it will be but a few days before they come to terms."

Government Arbitration

Asked if he expected government interference, Mr. Golden said that inasmuch as such steps had been taken in Manchester, N. H., where a government arbitrator is now at work in an endeavor to bring about a settlement, he felt similar action would be taken in Lowell, although he claimed that no steps had been taken in that line by union officials. He stated that last Saturday he was called on the telephone by a representative of the Massachusetts state board of arbitration, but he would not state the nature of the conversation.

Questioned about picketing, Mr. Golden said that nothing definite in that line had been arrived at yet. He said the executive committee of the Lowell Textile council would meet again this afternoon and the matter may be discussed at the meeting. Mr. Golden stated that the loomfixers employed at the Bay State Cotton Corp. in Marginal street were discharged and paid off Saturday noon and this morning after an unsuccessful attempt had been made to operate the plant the entire mill was shut down tight. He also reported that the stationary firemen employed at the Appleton mill had left their work this morning with the result that the mill is badly crippled.

Plans Daily Meetings

Plans were made this morning for daily meetings of the various organizations connected with the strike. All the organizations with the exception of the loomfixers will meet at 32 Middle street, some in the large hall and others in the small meeting hall. Beginning tomorrow meetings will be held as follows:

Large hall: Weavers, 8 to 9 a. m., slasher tenders, 10 to 11 a. m., Pollish weavers, 2 to 3 p. m., Beamers, 3 to 4 p. m., Small hall—Carders and pickers, 8 to 9 a. m., Textile council, 9 to 10 a. m., and twisters, 10 to 11 a. m. The loomfixers will meet every morning in their quarters in the Runnels building.

Lawrence Mfg. Co.

Everything is normal at the Lawrence Mfg. Co. Everybody reported to work this morning and the plant is running full blast. The only ones who are organized at the Lawrence hosiery are the spinners and they are not connected with the United Textile Workers of America.

Agent Walker of the Lawrence when seen this morning said everything was O. K. in his plant. He said the employees are satisfied with the ten per cent increase they received June 17 and a proof of this is that 100 per cent of the help reported as usual this morning. "The employees of the Lawrence hosiery constitute one great family," he said, "and they are all healthy and happy."

Quiet at Mill Gates

There was not the slightest sign of trouble at the mill gates this morning. Those among the operatives who wished to report for work did so and they were not molested in any way. Some of the strikers assembled in groups in the vicinity of the mills and discussed matters among themselves and did not in the least attempt to interfere with anyone. The regular mill police were on duty as usual and no effort had been made to have city officers at the gates, for it had been stated by union officials that there would be no picketing done this morning and this was followed to the letter.

Some of the strikers entered the mills in order to create sentiment, but they left shortly afterward and in no instance was any disturbance reported. The mill officials were well satisfied with the behavior of the strikers, while on the other hand the union officials were pleased to note that their instructions had been followed to the letter.

Afternoon Session

President Golden and members of the executive committee of the Lowell Textile council met at the hall in Middle street shortly before 8 o'clock this afternoon, but the discussion was merely of a general character. Additional reports from various plants showed that employees were steadily leaving the mills.

International Organizer Thomas J. Regan was at the meeting, having just come here from Manchester, N. H. He reported that the large mills in that city were practically at a standstill. An increase of 12-1-2 per cent. has been granted the employees there, but they are holding out for an additional 2-1-2 per cent. Local operatives and union men consider this a happy omen for the success of the local strike.

Reports of a federal investigator having here continued to come in during the afternoon but they did not have an authoritative basis.

2000 OPERATIVES FAILED TO REPORT FOR WORK AT PAWTUCKET, R. I.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., July 1.—Two thousand cotton weavers, loomfixers and beamers failed to report for work this morning in 27 mills in the Blackstone valley, because their demand for a 15 per cent increase in wages was refused. Union leaders state other departments in the mills operated as usual.

Union leaders say 4500 union members are on strike in the state and assert that unless a settlement is reached over 20,000 other mill employees whose work is dependent on that of the weavers, will be affected within a few days. Mill agents have offered from 7-1-2 to 10 per cent. increase, but this has been rejected. Weavers are now making an average of $24.60 weekly. The increase demanded would bring their wages to $32.55.

James R. MacColl, agent of the Lorraine Co. and former president of the Home Market club, issued a statement today in which he said: "Cotton mill operatives have had an advance of about 90 per cent since January, 1913. From a patriotic standpoint, the strike means the stoppage of a large amount of government work which is imperatively needed in order that the flow of troops to Europe may continue steadily. It is the duty of the government to look into the motives that are behind this strike, and also it is important that the public should be thoroughly informed as to the real merits of the question."

ALL ORGANIZED LOOMFIXERS AT WOONSOCKET, R. I. ON STRIKE

WOONSOCKET, R. I., July 1.—The

loomfixers in every cotton mill in this city but one, the help in the latter being unorganized, struck this morning. A number of weavers are also threatening to go out. The action of the loomfixers will force an early closing of the mills.

15,000 TEXTILE OPERATIVES ON STRIKE AT MANCHESTER, N. H.

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 1.—About 15,000 textile operatives of the Amoskeag and Stark mills are idle this morning, on account of a strike in the mills. Members of the Textile Union of America quit work for an increase of 15 per cent in place of 12-1-2 granted by the companies. The state labor commission was notified by the manufacturers and a representative of the commission is already on his way to this city to take a hand in the strike.

Strike at Warren, R. I.

WARREN, R. I., July 1.—Three hundred weavers at the plant of the Warren Manufacturing Co., struck today for a 15 per cent. increase in wages.

Alas that kinda of a all night job, and you keep such late hours? Y'know how them late hours don't agree with you, and how dopey they make you feel the next day, huh? If th whistle blow at half past eleven it wouldn't be so bad, and you could be asleep at twelve, huh? After this see if you can get it fixed with Gen. Poch or Gen. Pershing to call it a day along about eleven thirty, at night on centry work so you can get to sleep at a reasonable hour, huh? Y'know Felix, over here we have whatcha call a daylight savin plan, and since it started I have saved

45 hours but nobody has called for them yet but I'll keep on savin them until I get a 100 or 200 or so, and maybe I can use them on a vacation or on a furrow if I enlist in the draft or yet we can use them to finish on that chess game we started on before when you went in the army, huh? Also over here they are talkin about makin a day to save gasoline and not allowin autos to run all over everybody and everywhere and make them keep in their stalls on that day. When they have that day I am going to walk up and down th middle of th streets with my eyes closed and maybe eat my dinner out in th street to see what it'll be like and not half to jump around like a flea to get out of th ways of autos. Y'know Felix, we are gonna have some sixed army to fight in that war you're in before long, and I was thinkin when it's all over when we come back, we'll half to take some of us soldiers out of th parade an make em watch th parade so there'll be somebody to look at us along with the women, and kids. And y'know Felix, you fellas over

Jes like a wagon, th front wheels get there first ahead of th back ones and when th back wheels come along it's all there, huh? Y'know Felix, over here now we have a airplane that carries letters and papers between Wash. Phil and N. Y. and I was thinkin of a joke, couldn't you call th airplane mail, fly paper? Or would that be over peoples heads? Y'know some of those squareheaded Germans come over here in them u-boats and tried to get our goat but they didn't. All they did was scare th fish away and made it a punk day for fishin for th fellas who took th Sunday off to go fishin, and it only made a good excuse for th fishin fellas who they didn't catch no fish instead of th usual alibi they give, That's how terrific they was. Poot! So now Felix, it's nearly th finish and I can't say much more, and will stop now. Pull hard on th trigger. Your bro. & friend, Benny.

ARRAIGNED ON CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

Thomas Marsden of West Peterboro, N. H., was arraigned in police court this morning on the charge of manslaughter in causing the death of John H. Roche, who was struck by an auto driven by Marsden at the corner of Howard and Westford streets Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock. Roche died at the Lowell Corporation hospital seven hours later.

Roche was an employee of the Daniel Gage Ice Co., and was engaged in his work when the accident occurred. He has been a resident of Lowell for the past six or eight years but as yet no trace of his relatives has been learned except that it was intimated that he had a sister in Lynn and a brother in New Brunswick. Marsden is a resident of Peterboro, N. H.

At the time of the accident, according to passersby, Roche was engaged in breaking a piece of ice at the back of the wagon and had his back to the automobile when it plowed him to the side of the wheel. He was rushed to the hospital but despite all efforts to save him death took place about seven hours after his admittance. Internal injuries were given as the cause.

Police officers took Marsden's name and address and soon after the death of the unfortunate man he was notified to appear before the local court.

NEW FARE SCHEDULE ON MASS. NORTHEASTERN

This morning sees a new fare schedule in effect on the Massachusetts Northeastern street railway. The entire system has been divided into sections, with the exception of the shore lines, and the section lying between Hudson Centre and Nashua has been divided into two zones.

The shore line fare is six cents while upon all other lines the unit of fare is five cents.

Under the new schedule the route fares are: Pelham Centre to Hillman's corner, five cents; Hillman's corner to Collinsville, five cents; Collinsville to Meadow road, five cents; which with the existing fare on the Bay State line would render necessary the expense of another five cent ticket or six cents to ride to Merrimack square.

However, the Northeastern management intends to rezone the route between Pelham Centre and Meadow road, reducing the fare from fifteen to ten cents. Until this plan is carried out, free vouchers will be given to all cash passengers, riding between Pelham and Meadow road, permitting them to ride from Meadow road over the lines of the Bay State street railway without paying an additional fare. Upon the return trip, the Bay State line will issue vouchers on through cars to passengers who pay six cents cash or a five cent ticket, good for transportation to Collinsville. Thus persons riding from Pelham to Lowell and making use of a Bay State five cent ticket will pay fifteen cents cash.

Regular five and six cent tickets will be sold which will be good in the new sections.

Reduced rate tickets, good at all times will be issued at the price of seven and one half cents in quantities of ten for 75 cents. These will be good in any three consecutive zones.

Excursion tickets for the round trip between Lowell and Canobie lake will be sold for the sum of thirty-five cents. These will be accepted only on the day specified.

NEW YORK, July 1.—In response to inquiry from points in New England, the food administration grain corporation today announced that the new government price basis of $2.39½ for the New York market for No. 1 northern spring, hard winter, durum and hard white wheat, is effective also throughout the New England states. It was explained that New England not being a wheat producing area, does not accumulate wheat for export in sufficient quantities to require a government price basis market at Boston.

Money deposited this week or next in The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank begins to draw interest Saturday, July 6th.

MILITARY MASS

Largest Congregation in History of City at O. M. I.

Cadets' Annual Mass

Patriotic Music and Decorations—Members Receive Holy Communion

The largest congregation ever gathered in Lowell attended the annual military mass of the O.M.I. Cadets held

REV. DENIS A. SULLIVAN, O.M.I. Chaplain

Yesterday at the Immaculate Conception church and perhaps never before was the event so elaborate, so impressive and so attractive to those fortunate enough to be present. Under the direction of Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., chaplain of the organization; Maj. Joseph F. Boyd, Jr., commander, as well as the other officers of the Cadets, the 1918 military mass was easily the most successful ever held by the Belvidere organization.

Rev. P. J. Phelan, O.M.I., celebrated

MAJ. JOSEPH F. BOYD, JR., Commander

the mass which was held at 9 o'clock. Headed by the Cadet drum corps the young soldiers marched from their armory to the church and as they passed down the centre aisle the choir sang significantly: "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

The West Point uniform which the majority of the Cadets wore contrasted pleasantly with the white of the naval reserve members and the khaki of the aviation section.

During the mass a hymn for soldiers

was sung by the choir. A trio of Cadets, Charles McDowd, John O'Brien and Alfred Brown, sang "Our Lady of Good Counsel" at the offertory and at the close of the mass "America, United" composed by Rev. Fr. Sullivan, was sung by the congregation. John J. Giblin played a patriotic selection at communion and the presence of every Cadet at the altar rail was one of the most inspiring features of the occasion.

"True Patriotism" was the theme of Rev. Fr. Sullivan's sermon. He spoke of the inevitable corollary that if one were a good Catholic he would be a good citizen; he urged the co-operation of everybody in various phases of war work and in conclusion, spoke on the value and significance of the flag and urged the Cadets to be true soldiers of Christ so that they might be able to defend their country's flag.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. On the main altar were more than 200 dozens of American Beauty roses and beacon carnations. The altar of the Blessed Virgin Mary was swathed in white, and that of St. Joseph was adorned in blue. Standards of red, white and blue were in happy evidence about the church.

To add to the strictly military character of the affair, all the singing was done by Cadets. In addition to the numerous choruses, Cadet John Cottor sang a solo in excellent voice.

At the conclusion of the mass Caterer Lydon served breakfast at the Cadet armory to the young soldiers.

HUN PEACE TERMS
Want British Fleet, Gibraltar to Spain—Egypt and Suez Canal to Turkey

England, France and U. S. Must Pay Indemnity of $45,000,000,000

PARIS, July 1.—Great Britain must turn over its war fleet to Germany, return Gibraltar to Spain and restore Egypt and the Suez canal to Turkey. Great Britain, France and the United States must pay Germany an indemnity of at least $45,000,000,000. Belgium and French territory must be surrendered.

These are among the conditions included in the German peace program published in the Nachrichten of Goerlitz, Prussia, by Count Roen, a member of the Prussian house of lords, according to a Havas despatch from Basel, Switzerland.

Until these terms are realized there should be no armistice and no cessation of submarine warfare, the count says. His conditions are:

Annexation of Belgium with administrative autonomy in the interior; Independence of Flanders; Annexation of the entire Flanders coast, including Calais;

Annexation of the Briey and Longwy basins, and the Toul, Belfort and Verdun regions eastward;

Restitution to Germany of all her colonies, including Kio-Chau;

Great Britain to cede to Germany such bases and coaling stations as Germany designates; return of Gibraltar to Spain, cede its war fleet to Germany, restore Egypt to Turkey and the Suez canal to Turkey;

Greece must be re-established under former King Constantine with the as before the war;

Austria and Bulgaria will divide Siberia and Montenegro;

Great Britain, France and the United States must pay all of Germany's war costs, the indemnity being a minimum of $45,000,000,000. They also must agree to deliver raw materials immediately.

France and Belgium are to remain occupied at their expense until the conditions are carried out.

TILLMAN DYING

Veteran Democratic Senator from South Carolina in Critical Condition

Stricken with Hemorrhage on Thursday—In the Senate 24 Years

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Benjamin R. Tillman, veteran democratic senator from South Carolina and chairman of the naval affairs committee, is seriously ill at his home in Washington and his recovery is regarded by his physician as doubtful.

His left side is completely paralyzed and he has been suffering from a severe recurrent cerebral hemorrhage since Thursday.

The seriousness of Senator Tillman's condition became known yesterday when his physician issued this bulletin:

"Senator Tillman is now suffering from a severe recurrent cerebral hemorrhage. There is complete paralysis of the left side. The attack came on Thursday afternoon at the senate and has been progressive. Because of previous attacks and the age of the senator, the outlook is unfavorable."

Stricken in the Senate

Senator Tillman was stricken with the hemorrhage, the second he has suffered, in the senate, Thursday. His condition since has become worse and he was unconscious almost all of yesterday.

Members of the family have been summoned to the bedside. About 10 years ago Senator Tillman had a similar attack, which paralyzed his right side, but he recovered to a great extent.

The latest attack completely paralyzed his left side, and with advanced years and less physical resistance the outcome was said last night to be extremely doubtful.

As chairman of the senate naval affairs committee, Mr. Tillman's work has been regarded as one of the highest importance, especially in connection with the navy's part in the war. He has been one of the most active members of the senate during his 24 years of continuous service.

In Senate 24 Years

Senator Tillman, who is almost 71 years old, was elected governor of South Carolina in 1890, and again in 1892, and was elected to the United States senate in 1894.

For more than a generation he has been one of the most picturesque and powerful figures in public and political life of the south.

"Pitchfork Ben" was the name given him many years ago, and one he himself did not resent, because of his vociferous style of attack upon political foes.

During recent years, Senator Tillman's bitter contest with ex-Gov. Elmore, a candidate against Mr. Tillman in the present senatorial primaries, has held him in the heat of political fray even at an advanced age.

A year ago, Senator Tillman announced his virtual retirement from politics, stating he would not be a candidate for re-election, but he later decided to again offer himself for office because of the service he might do his country and his stand during the war by reason of his intimate knowledge of naval affairs.

OF THE
8th Middlesex
Senatorial District

I desire to announce my candidacy for the nomination as Senator.

I am a member of the Middlesex Bar and was connected with the firm of Greenwood Bros., doing business in Lowell for years.

I served two years in the Lowell City Government, two years as a Representative from Lowell and at present am serving in the Constitutional Convention, representing the fifth Congressional District.

I therefore feel that my business and professional training as well as my experience along legislative lines fits me to give the office intelligent service.

The present Senator, for whom I have the kindest regard, considered that Senator Marchand was entitled to but two years in the Senate. In addition to his two years Senator Colburn has been appointed to a recess committee which is equal to three years of service.

I respectfully solicit the votes and support of the Republicans of the District.
